RACIAL CHINESE WALL SCORED BY RUSSIANS

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today accused the Peking regime of building a "Chinese wall between white, yellow and black nations."

The Soviets declared that such "racist" policies would meet the same fate as Hitler's Germany.

The very appeal to theories and ideas of racial coloration is not new," a statement said, adding:

"It is not necessary to mention the names of those who tried to base their policy on such man-hating principles and how they ended."

Two-Year Meeting Begins

GENEVA (AP)—The Kennedy round of tariff negotiations was formally inaugurated today with the opening speeches showing wide disagreement on how to proceed.

Ministers and high officials from more than 70 countries, including Canada, assembled in the meeting hall of Geneva's state Parliament to mark the official start. The mammoth tariff-cutting effort is scheduled to continue for as long as two years.

President Johnson, in a message to the conference, said the United States regards the Kennedy round as "an important opening to a better world."

In the message read by his chief trade negotiator, former U.S. State Secretary Christian A. Herter, Johnson pledged that the U.S. will "spare no effort in seeking to help bring this meeting, and the meetings which will follow, to a happy and fruitful conclusion."

In his own speech, Herter called for a speed-up of the intricate negotiations.

But Belgian Foreign Trade Minister Pierre Brasseur, speaking for the six-nation European Common Market, seemed to take a diametrically opposed view.

Brasseur warned against excessive speed leading to "hasty decisions" without the necessary careful preliminary studies.

STRESSES CO-OPERATION

Britain's Eric Wyndham White, executive secretary of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, was chairman of the meeting. He stressed that the participating countries should co-operate to carry forward the work of the late President Kennedy, whose personal support for the U.S. Trade Expansion Act made the negotiations possible and gave them their name.

Patriarch Cyril, spiritual leader of the Bulgarian Orthodox Church, was to have celebrated the mass, climax of the Orthodox Easter celebration.

An announcement said the patriarch was ill and Bishop Nikolai, rector of the academy of theology, took his place.

Student Participation Denied

In Prague, CTK said the 31 persons under arrest were charged with disturbing the peace. The news agency denied reports received outside Czechoslovakia that university students led the rioting against the police.

CTK said only one of the 31 arrested was a university student and that this "disproves the irresponsibility of agency reports which suggested that Prague university and college students were the instigators and main participants in the incident."

Reports received in Vienna said 3,000 students participated in the rioting in Kinsky Park, where they had gathered for a traditional May Day reading of poetry.

The reports, relayed by diplomatic sources, said the violence bordered on open revolt.

CHINA HIT BY DROUGHT AND FLOODS

HONG KONG (AP)—Natural calamities have struck vast areas of Communist China.

Provincial radio broadcasts from China say parts of north China were devastated by recent floods and areas in south China have been plagued by prolonged drought.

But the calamities apparently have not affected the food situation yet.

Commons Indignant At Report

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home levelled new accusations of subversion against Yemen today in the wake of reports that heads of two British soldiers killed in a skirmish with Yemen-supported tribesmen were on public display in Taiz, Yemen's diplomatic capital.

He declared the United States is urgently investigating the report at the request of Britain. The U.S. has a consulate in Yemen. Britain does not recognize the republic of Yemen, which has territorial claims on the British protectorate of Aden.

Indignation mounted in government and parliamentary circles over the report and Douglas-Home made the statement under pressure from members of Parliament of all parties.

He said the information on the beheadings came from the national guard of the South Arabian Federation, a British-sponsored country of 14 sheikdoms.

The prime minister accused Yemen of promoting and supporting violence and subversion in the remote area of the federation where the two British soldiers were killed.

RESPOND TO APPEAL

He declared fresh British troops from Aden had hurried to the area in response to an appeal from the government of the federation.

The troops, he said, were in combat against hostile tribesmen who have launched a series of violent attacks on users of the Aden-Dhala road in the Radfan area, about 60 miles north of Aden. The road links Aden with the crumbling, medieval town which stands on an exposed plain reaching over the desert border into Yemen.

"There is no doubt that the violent subversion in the Radfan area has been encouraged and sustained by the Yemen," he said.

"The opposition encountered by our troops is evidence that support from across the frontier has been on a large scale."

A report from Aden said South Arabian Federation authorities closed the border with Yemen and turned back Aden-bound traffic.

Monorail Proposed For London

LONDON (Reuters)—A plan to beat London's daily rush hour by monorail travel was announced here today.

The monorail cars, capable of whisking 100 commuters at 100 miles an hour from suburban areas into the city and back, would operate only during the morning and evening rush hours when thousands of people go to or leave their offices.

The driverless cars, departing at 40-second intervals from nine main centres around London, would run on concrete and steel hooks and would provide nonstop services.

Motorists who normally drive to work would be urged to leave their cars at specially-built parking lots.

Frederick Snow, head of a firm of consulting engineers said today: "The new monorails could be built in 18 months for between £500,000 and £1,000,000 a mile, compared with £2,500,000 a mile for an elevated urban motorway and £3,000,000 a mile for an underground railway."

STOCKPILING OF URANIUM WINDING UP

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided against continuing its uranium stockpiling beyond the end of June, Acting Trade Minister Hays announced today.

Mr. Hays told the Commons that by the end of June—the government will have stockpiled about $25,000,000 worth of uranium under the one-year stockpiling policy started last June 26.

BEARD STAYS, SALESMAN GOES

A Matter of Principle

PETERBOROUGH, England (AP)—A 20-year-old salesman with a bright future said today he would abandon his career rather than shave off his beard.

"Under no circumstances," said Ivor Lewis, "will I shave off my beard. It's a matter of principle."

For the last two years Lewis has been working as a trainee-salesman in the local office of a men's clothing firm chain.

He had won a company prize for ability.

He had received a letter of commendation from the president of the company.

Then two months ago he grew a beard.

It swoops down both sides of his face and ends in an impish point beneath his chin.

Lewis got the bad news at

The letter ended:

"I implore you to swallow your senseless pride and let sense prevail."

Explained Lewis:

Mrs. Fred Lewis, the young man's mother said:

"We are behind Ivor. We think this action high-handed."

Victoria school children are happy to have teachers and principals wielding authority over them and don't wish to be disciplined by student councils.

This revealing insight was a result of weekend talks by 22 student council representatives of seven Greater Victoria junior secondary schools, meeting in their first convention at S. J. Willis.

Students, who conceived, planned and conducted the convention, agreed that authority regarding the behavior of pupils is properly vested in school officers.

Dona Hanowski, convention president, said the meeting was an "excellent idea" and should be an annual event.

Because so many golf enthusiasts respect her husband's golf ability, Marilyn Wakeham still has her most recent pay cheque on hand.

After Bill Wakeham and Laurie Carroll paused for lunch during Sunday's Times Vancouver Island Open final, Marilyn went "shopping" with her entire pay cheque. She couldn't find any takers.

Carroll won the brilliant final, 6 and 4.

And while on the Open, Carroll blanched visibly as the roar went up from the gallery at the blind 14th hole.

His tee shot was either in the cup or agonizingly close.

"If that ball is in the hole, I'm heading for the bush," said Carroll. "I can't afford to buy drinks for this crowd!"

But the former Oak Bay professional was saved by 24 inches—a magnificent golf shot on the 135-yard hole.

Victoria violinist Billy Tickle, who provided tea and crumpet music in the lounge at the Empress Hotel for more than 35 years, has an important anniversary this week.

It is just 40 years since he left his home at Workington, Cumberland, England, and brought his well-seasoned fiddle to Victoria.

In the early days Billy led his own orchestra under the screen of various silent movie houses, played for dances and entertained at weddings and anniversaries.

At his home at 1021 Pentreath Place he treasures a collection of posters advertising such famous silent movies as Ben Hur, Way Down East and Charlie Chaplin's Gold Rush.

The cost of higher education gets higher and higher and the first to know it is the student who must find the dollars to pay his sessional bills.

Ten years ago an out-of-town student could scrape by on less than $1,000, covering books, fees, room and board, and incidentals.

Today, according to an outline contained in the 1964-65 Bulletin of the University of Victoria, a student whose home is away from this area will pay between $1,300 and $1,500.

This is almost exactly what an unskilled person working 19 weeks, eight hours a day, six days a week, will gross. The net earnings would be considerably less.

In practice, there are many women students who manage to earn only $500 toward their winter's expenses, and much of it is spent in September when new outfits are bought.

The Bulletin lists these main expenses: tuition $372, Alma Mater fee $30, living (average $75 a month) $575, books $75-$100, transportation $45, plus $200 for incidentals such as laundry, dental care, clothes, recreation and personal requirements.

And that's paring it close to the bone.

What, When, Why Of Kennedy Round

GENEVA (AP)—The Kennedy affairs for the commission that round in brief:

What is it? A series of talks among official representatives of 75 countries, designed to cut tariffs and expand international trade. If successful it will mean more business for all the non-Communist world—for example, more German handbags sold in the United States, more U.S. bathing suits sold in Switzerland, more Swiss watches sold in Germany.

When? Preliminary talks have been going on for more than a year. The formal talks may last two years more. The top men will spend two or three days making speeches to mark the formal opening and try to bridge over some of the disagreements.

Who? For the United States, former secretary of state Christian A. Herter, the president's chief trade negotiator; for the European Common Market, Jean Rey, in charge of external held since 1948.

TWO SLIP THROUGH VANCOUVER*Fans Cloud Beatle Sunbath In Far Hawaiian Hideaway

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaiian fans of The Beatles kept two of the British Rock 'n' rollers inside Sunday except for a future 20 minutes in the island sun.

While mop-haired John Lennon and George Harrison were trying unsuccessfully to be ordinary tourists, the other half of the quartet, Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr, were in the Virgin Islands.

Derek Taylor, their London agent, said they have a month free from engagements. Their next scheduled performance is in June in Australia.

Lennon, his wife, Cynthia, and Harrison arrived incognito in Honolulu Saturday night and checked into the heavily-guarded Royal Hawaiian Hotel. They came from Amsterdam by way of Vancouver.

The two Beatles and Mrs. Lennon slipped out to the other side of the island Sunday to the private beach of public relations man John McDermott.

TEENS GATHER

In five minutes, 300 teenagers appeared and the two Beatles fled to a private pool next door surrounded by a wire fence.

Reporters joined the juvenile vigil and camped outside from mid-afternoon until dark. A few youngsters climbed on top of an adjoining garage and automobiles parked outside. One teenager used binoculars.

Mr. Howard served notice that New Democrat MPs will press for immediate referral of the bill to a joint Senate and House of Commons committee.

"If the government has nothing to hide we are sure that they will grant this reasonable request," he said.

IN SENATE

A bill setting out the principles for establishing a 12-mile fishing limit on Canada's coasts was introduced into the Senate Thursday. Foreign fleets now can fish to within three miles, sending their trawlers into some inshore areas of the east coast where Canadian trawlers are barred for conservation purposes.

Mr. Howard said the Liberal government is asking Parliament to buy a pig in a poke and endorse the concept of a rubbery or plastic fishing zone.

"The bill, by obscurity and legerdemain, maintains the privileged position of other nations to fish within our waters, and permits the government to extend this privilege to exploit our resources to additional nations," Mr. Howard said.

RIDICULOUS PLIGHT

He contended that because of the protective provisions of the bill, "the ridiculous situation on the Atlantic coast whereby Canada has not permitted its large trawlers to fish closer than 12 miles while at the same time allowing foreign trawlers to fish up to three miles will continue in effect."

He said that on the west coast fishermen were predicting that the government would allow American fishermen to continue to troll and drag for fish up to the three-mile limit.

"These predictions could very easily be proven correct depending solely upon the amount of pressure exerted upon the government at a later date," he said.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A labor department conciliation officer has been granted an extension in time in his search for a settlement of the coast woodworkers' dispute.

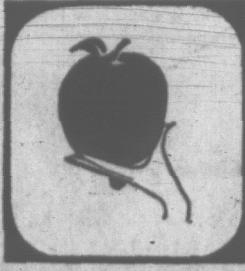

The International Woodworkers of America (CLC) and Forest Industrial Relations, spokesman for the employers, have both granted an extension of the 10 days provided under the Labor Relations Act.

Jack Moore, IWA president, said in a bulletin to the union's 26,000 members in eight coast locals the extension was granted conciliation officer E. P. Fisher on the understanding that he would recommend specific terms of settlement.

SIU to Back Fight to Revive Deepsea Fleet

MONTREAL (CP)—The Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.) announced today it will support Canadians interested in an attempt to revive a deepsea merchant fleet.

The SIU said the move was endorsed by a membership meeting and supported by Canada's maritime union trustees. It was the first publicly announced stand of the union on the matter since Canada's ocean fleet dwindled from 172 vessels in 1948 to the one or two it comprises today.

Charles Turner, acting SIU president, and L. J. McLaughlin, SIU executive vice-president, said in a joint statement that the union, despite an almost total cutback on the acceptance of new members, finds itself with an excess of members over jobs to be filled.

"To correct this situation and to promote an expansion in Canadian maritime shipping policy, the union is prepared to make representation to federal and other authorities with the objective of returning the Canadian ensign to the deepwater ship routes of the world."

"It is our strong conviction that a policy can, indeed, be worked out that would result in the establishment of at least the nucleus of a large fleet of modern vessels on the high seas within a reasonably short time. We would interpret a nucleus as being about 40 ships."

To this end, the union would move for measures to repatriate a small, existing fleet of Canadian-owned deepsea vessels now flying the flags of other Commonwealth nations.

7,000 Seamen 16 Years Ago

These ships, it was felt, should form the basis for the larger re-establishment program which in turn would provide shipping services complementary to the existing inland Canadian fleet so vital to Canadian trade, the statement said.

More than 7,000 Canadian seamen were employed in Canadian deepsea vessels 16 years ago. There were managerial and supervisory shore staffs, a continuous flow of refit and repair work for Canadian shipyards, business for a myriad of Canadian suppliers and the like.

"To correct this situation and to promote an expansion in Canadian maritime shipping policy, the union is prepared to make representation to federal and other authorities with the objective of returning the Canadian ensign to the deepwater ship routes of the world."

"It is our strong conviction that a policy can, indeed, be worked out that would result in the establishment of at least the nucleus of a large fleet of modern vessels on the high seas within a reasonably short time. We would interpret a nucleus as being about 40 ships."

To this end, the union would move for measures to repatriate a small, existing fleet of Canadian-owned deepsea vessels now flying the flags of other Commonwealth nations.

SIU Prepared to Provide Seamen

The statement recalled a recent speech in which Montreal ship operator M. G. Angus said the story of Canada's merchant fleet was "perhaps the saddest chapter in Canadian post-war economic history — especially since it might easily have been so different."

Mr. Angus called for "a definite, whole-hearted long-term plan which could assure the industry of making the necessary plans and commitments."

The SIU of Canada officers stated they are prepared and anxious to provide seamen skilled in deepsea ship operation and declared the union will do its full share toward making certain that a continuing supply of well-trained sea-going personnel is developed from within the ranks of Canadian labor.

"Canada today," the statement said "is completely at the mercy of overseas operators and as such has no voice in establishing cargo rates on the high seas."

The nation as a whole was experiencing a net deficit of about $100,000,000 a year in marine shipping services to foreign-flag operators.

The union concurred with the observation of Mr. Angus that "it seems amazing we have been prepared to spend about

$2,500,000 on our navy in the last 10 years yet nothing on a merchant fleet."

The Negligent Stewards

THE THREAT TO THE FUTURE of Botanical Beach produced two welcome developments. It was heartening to see the immediate response of the public, which strongly protested when this important beauty spot and natural research ground was faced with disaster. And it was a fine thing to find the new owner of the property adjacent to the beach voluntarily donating 20 acres to the province for park and access purposes.

But is this situation good enough? Why was this internationally known treasure house of marine life not put under provincial park protection long ago, along with enough shore frontage to ensure a properly forested environment? And how many other choice scenic sites, irreplaceable botanical exhibits in their natural state, still lie open to commercial invasion that might be halted only through the personal generosity of some individual?

We all know there are many such locations. And what security have they for us or for posterity when government policy holds that even the already dedicated parks are available for lumbering and mining "to open them up"?

Even though Botanical Beach itself may escape destruction, it apparently is going to lose a large proportion of its forested background. And experts fear that nearby boozing operations could result in contamination of the waters, with a consequent destructive effect on the plant life.

Lumbering and mining obviously have an important claim on this province. They provide the revenue and the payrolls that form the backbone of our economy. But this is also a province which prides itself on its scenic beauty, its outdoor recreational attractions, its varied plant and animal life. These are natural resources of equal value, in their way, to the commercial wealth. They are the stock in trade of our growing tourist industry, the priceless assets of our own living environment. Surely they rate protection.

There should be a properly conducted and comprehensive survey made of the province's wealth in the form of seafloor sites, mountains and valleys, lake and river properties, waterfalls, canyons, glaciers and all the other natural assets of our great out-of-doors. And there should be a definite government program of progressive acquisition, protection and permanent retention of such assets where feasible and expedient.

Some of these treasures are already within the boundaries of parks. Then let us keep them inviolate for our generation and those to come. Many are still outside parks jurisdiction, enjoying even less security. Then let us acquire and save them.

Natural parks are not something that must be used up immediately in order to reap their benefit. It is no excuse for destroying a fine parkland to say that no one has been there for 10 years. Such areas are nature exhibits, they are outdoor museums, they are scientific treasures as well as things of beauty, and in the case of virgin forests, water courses and other features they cannot be restored once they have been altered by man.

Western

The teeming population of a century hence will judge us harshly if we destroy that which we in reality should be holding in trust for them and which they will desperately need.

In the old, rude days when the Red Army was rolling across Eastern Europe, Stalin had a quite different, and happily obsolete, sense of military values. It was perhaps best expressed in his famous question: How many divisions has the Pope? In this more enlightened age, with the Russians sharing in the blessings of the affluent society, Mr. Khrushchev is much more likely to ask: How many rooms has the Canadian Pentagon? How are they fixed for parking space?

Close Links

Ever since Clausewitz, national leaders have been at pains to emphasize the close links between national defence and foreign policy. It will occasion no surprise, therefore, that External Affairs is also to receive some centennial largesse.

Relatively speaking, our "new state department building" will be a modest affair, costing a bagatelle of some $10,000,000. According to eager Ottawa reporters, however, it will be a high-rise structure of glass, stone and stainless steel, containing state dining rooms, reception halls and other facilities calculated to arouse awe in the minds of touring VIPs.

With a well-housed foreign policy and a well-oiled military machine, we should be able to stare down any potential challenger to our national security. One of the attractive things about national defence is that it bulges with fringe benefits. By a happy coincidence our new Pentagon will contribute to the beautification of our national capital which embraces four desirable constituencies. This is not to suggest — perish the thought — that there is any politics in the business.

Lovers of the Beautiful

The fact is that our admirals, generals and air marshals, to the last man, are lovers of the beautiful. It is pleasant to think of them sitting down with the moguls of Public Works to plan the national competition among architects eager to win a cash prize for the design best calculated to deter Mr. Khrushchev and improve Le Breton Flats.

The taxpayer, in parting with his shirt, will also have the warm feeling that he has contributed in his small way to the attainment of these desirable objectives.

We must not, however, permit ourselves to dwell too much on the fringe blessings of this fine new venture. It is defence that counts. Izvestia correspondents of the future will be able to report to their impressionable readers on the ready, aye ready posture of the new NDHQ, in which efficient staff sergeants move with silent determination across deep-piled carpets to deliver fateful messages in triplicate to alert generals brooding over the latest intelligence in the depths of the upholstery. We may be sure that the modern Russian, reading such despatches, will think of peace and tend his garden.

Effect on Morale

The effect on the morale of other ranks scattered around the world on peace-keeping missions should also be considerable. Who will worry about the latest foul-up when he knows that behind it is the quiet purpose and firm resolve of keen, integrated minds working, free of distractions, in the air-conditioned splendors of Le Breton Flats? One might, perhaps, achieve the same degree of air-conditioned wizardry if the high brass of NDHQ were sent back to their tents. But such thoughts will be properly rejected by right-thinking Canadians as subservient, unpatriotic, faintly reminiscent of Field Marshal Montgomery, and economically absurd because they might involve a saving of $25,000,000. Or upwards.

What we must do, at all costs, is to preserve our defence options. As understood by Public Works, this will probably mean an elevator to every office so that our integrated generals do not find themselves by some horrible chance in the same lift with an integrated admiral or air marshal. Options will be valuable even to mere colonels and wing commanders because they will avoid over-crowding and irritating delays on the way to the bar.

There ought, in the circumstances, to be general satisfaction with this electrifying news from Ottawa. It is high time that we had our own Pentagon with 100 per cent Canadian content. One can only wonder how our underprivileged staff officers have put up with things so long and how the country, lacking a Hilton-style NDHQ, has managed somehow to survive two world wars.

Remembering Other Truces

By MAX FREEDMAN
from Washington

IN essence the quarrel between Moscow and Peking is a quarrel over the best Communist formula for capture of power, sharpened by a conflict between national interests. On both these points China has put her case very badly. As a result world opinion has a superficial view of the meaning of the controversy. Russia is seen as the nation wanting peace, at least for the time being, while China wants an expansion of power even at the risk of war and in some cases by means of war. This formulation of the problem is not without merit but at bottom it is a caricature of the essential issues.

Still worse, it is a caricature exported by Russia for its own reasons. It may be of advantage to the United States to have Russia win this Communist quarrel. But at least we should follow this controversy from the standpoint of America's interests instead of blindly echoing the Communist line as paraded in Moscow.

We do not have to go back very far to discover that Russia is a late convert to peace. Mr. Khrushchev sent tanks to crush the spirit of freedom in Hungary. He intervened with the threat of missiles in the Suez crisis. He blustered against Western Europe as a mere hostage of Soviet nuclear power. He threatened to destroy the incomparable grace of the Acropolis in Athens. And he brought the world within a whisper of nuclear war by placing missiles in Cuba.

By contrast China, despite her violent talk, has moved with caution. Even in Korea she moved only after repeated warnings about an approach to her borders had been ignored. It may be said that China would have been more belligerent if she had not been willing to respect American power. But that is the whole point. American strength in Asia has been used as a barrier to Communist expansion and has been so regarded by China. The Peking government has gambled less with peace than Moscow did in Cuba or in Berlin.

Cuba is the test case. Mr. Khrushchev keeps repeating that he backed away from the abyss to save mankind from nuclear disaster. China replies that he had no business at all in smuggling missiles into Cuba. It was a wanton adventure. But having taken the risk he should not have broken and quit when President Kennedy applied the pressure. That is rather different from the popular view that China wants war and is sad when a peaceful settlement is arranged.

Earlier Attitudes

Not for the first time Russia has sought a respite in its quarrel with freedom. From 1934 to the Munich agreement of 1938 Russia faced the challenge of Germany and Japan. During all that time Russia was an admirable member of the League of Nations. Then in 1939 Russia signed the pact with Germany that made the Second World War inevitable.

Now Russia is again going through a period of restraint. This is wholly consistent with the philosophy of Marx as strengthened by the strategy of Lenin. It is the declared aim of Soviet policy to surpass the United States in consumer goods in less than 20 years. No competent American economist believes this can be done. It has no chance of success if Russia intends to support an arms race as well as a program of economic development.

On the lowest ground of economic prudence a truce has meaning for Russia. It may also be conceded that Mr. Khrushchev has learned not to flourish his nuclear weapons with reckless defiance. These two points explain Russia's policy. But they do not prove that Russia's mood will last forever or that it has abandoned its basic policy of expansion in areas of weakness.

We tend to forget that China regards her doctrinal exchanges with Russia as addressed to an audience of world communism. China is cut off from America, knows next to nothing about American opinion, and grossly undervalues its importance. Russia is making no such mistake. Every one of Russia's arguments is weighed not only for its impact on Communist countries but for its impact on the United States. It is clear that Russia is not satisfied with treating the United States as part of the audience. Russia also has the more subtle purpose of making the United States an accomplice of the Soviet Union in the sense that Washington will side with Moscow against Peking.

There is nothing to be gained by such partiality, unless Russia is willing to make far more concessions than now seem possible. Nor is it wise to erect a vendetta against China into a maxim of American policy. We should not do Mr. Khrushchev's work for him without getting better payment for it.

A JAPANESE STUDENT'S FAREWELL TO VICTORIA

Bread of Friendship Upon the Waters

Sayonara Victoria!

Who would be a luckier boy than me and when could I have more useful and exciting days than in Victoria?

To work hard on a great number of essays, to cram for exams or to enjoy myself at student parties . . . These would be common activities for a university student if I were not a foreign student. They, however, were absolutely new to me and excited me because I had to do them all in English.

It might be nothing in particular to listen to lectures as a student, but as a foreign student it was significant only to sit among Canadian students.

I have striven to be melted with the students of the University of Victoria and with your Victorians and to learn as much as I could. Now, I am very happy that I could do so and you and the students dealt with me not as a foreigner or as a stranger but as one of your close friends.

Definitely Valuable

Such daily student activities and life in Victoria were definitely valuable for my rest of life in a sense that I could live and talk with UVic students as if I were a Canadian.

Adding to this, UVic students kindly gave me new significant experiences. For instance one of them took me flying over your island, which gave me a chance to see your beautiful country from the sky, and another of them took me to Green Mountain to see the snow, plus the many tipes and many students who took me to see Victoria's lovely parks, beaches, trees and flowers.

Moreover I had an opportunity to travel around the United States and even to Mexico during the Christmas holidays. I intend to travel across Canada when exams are over to top off my year.

Thesis Material

Of course I am very glad that I have been able to study Canadian economy and history on which I am going to sit my graduation thesis in Japan.

However my greatest pleasure lies in the strength of friendship I found in Victoria particularly at UVic. It is more important than my exciting experiences seeing new places and learning economics in English.

Who gave me this happy and beneficial life? When I look back on my life in Victoria, I have not enough words to express my appreciation to the UVic students for their generosity for inviting me here and giving me full scholarship.

My only regrets for the splendid year here are my own shortcomings in reciprocating your tireless efforts. I showed a few films about Japan, gave a tottering speech on Japanese economy, displayed my own country at the Open House and tried to introduce you to Japan in private contact. These are all my poor best.

How sad it is to bid farewell to Victoria. The only thing which consoles my deep sadness is my obligation after my return to Japan. It is my delightful duty to inform Japan of your warm friendliness and UVic students' kindness and let them know your lovely country and way of life through my happy memories. I am well aware of this obligation.

I hope with all my heart that my return is not the end but the wide opening of good understanding and strong friendship between you and the Japanese.

Hoping through UVic's foreign student program and others like it that we continue to build a peaceful world with all nations in accord, I close with thanks to all Victorians, particularly to my friends, all of the UVic students, and say good-bye Victoria!

As Our Readers See It

Little League Drawbacks

Living across the road from a Little League ballpark, I can sympathize with the residents of Oak Bay who are objecting to the same development in their vicinity.

Apart from Sunday noise, and parking problems, the saddest part of the whole set-up is the fact a portion of ground which should be usable by all, is fenced and padlocked against everyone outside a certain group, and lies deserted and useless for nine months of the year. Isn't this discrimination?

What about the boys, and girls, who like to play softball, or soccer, etc.?

INSIDE POLITICS

With Douglas Fisher, M.P.

This is not a fairy tale.

Once upon a time, there was a leader of a country. His chamberlain or key assistant through the years while he worked towards the summit was a busy, busy young woman to whom I shall give the most common of female names—Mary.

Mary was a very loyal and energetic helper. Time, in its normal working sense, meant nothing to Mary. She would come early and stay late. Her reputation expanded with the year. Not everyone loved Mary because Mary was very watchful in the interests of her leader.

She set appointments; she sifted the correspondence; she pre-selected his reading; she gave her opinions on the merit and motives of people who came in touch with the leader. She was what the film-writers would call "His girl Friday."

Co-ordinator

As the leader moved up in his political career, Mary became more and more involved in politics and the leader's political party. She developed her own index of who was important, who was loyal, who was good, and who was ineffective. Mary tended to put people higher on her index of quality if they had been with the chief during his years in the wilderness.

When the chief won the highest post in the land Mary went along. After all, she was not a vital part of his working entourage?

The entourage increased. From one of the nation's great advertising agencies came Dick. He was to handle the very important and delicate relationship between the leader and the press. Tom came along to the palace with Mary. No one was quite sure what Tom did although everyone was sure that what he did was very important. Some catty people who didn't appreciate the value of Tom referred to him sneeringly as "co-ordinator of everything." The pace of work in the palace was so hard that a nice lad called Jim was brought in. His task was to make appointments for people to see the chief. Then another Jim was added to help in that mysterious area known as public relations.

Sharp Eyes

It would be sweet if we could say that all these people in the palace of the leader lived happily ever after. They did not. Somehow Mary seemed to get in the way. Dark suspicions began to enter the minds of the others in the palace. Time after time Mary

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Alarming But Natural

With the occasional early leaves almost as ornamental as flower clusters and totally unlike the older leaves.

One is the lovely Pieris japonica Forrestii, sometimes called the Lily-of-the-valley bush. The newly unfolded leaves in early spring are a brilliant scarlet in contrast to the rather dull green of maturity.

New gardeners are frequently alarmed at this contrast, fearing frost damage to the tender shoots.

Another of the broad-leaved evergreen shrubs to sport unusual new leaf coloring is the variegated elaeagnus or Russian-olive, beloved of flower arrangers for its enveloping gold and dark green foliage all the year around.

Just now new shoots are growing from every branch tip but instead of the lively green and gold leaves they are a dull powdery bronze, wizened in appearance.

They are however quite normal. Within a few weeks, the desirable green and gold smoothness will develop and all will be well.

The new leaves of some of our trees unfold in a different color to that which develops later. Some of the maples, for instance, open a dull red, later turning to green for summer. Willows, most of us remember, are yellow as misty spring sunshine through rain in their youth, but assume a green tone for their summer dress.

As we live with our plants, these changes become a part of our lives, adding interest and perhaps some slight understanding of the ways of nature.

Giant Beaten By Small Firm

VANCOUVER (CP) — Cattermole Timber Ltd. of Chilliwack won cutting rights to 110,000,000 feet of timber Friday by out-bidding a major forest products company.

Cattermole's successful bid was $3.20 for each 100 cubic feet of spruce, or $500,000 for the lot at the lower end of the Finlay River in northern British Columbia.

B.C. Forest Products, Ltd., is the major shareholder of Alexandra Forest Industries, which was Cattermole's major opposition.

The timber is in the Rocky Mountain Trench area that will be flooded when water begins rising behind the Peace River timber sales.

CMS Subsidiary Denies Price Fix

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The president of a Spokane chemical firm, a subsidiary of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., of Trail, B.C., Saturday denied a U.S. justice department accusation of price fixing.

Cominco Products Inc., Spokane, was one of five chemical companies indicted by a Los Angeles, Calif., federal grand jury Thursday. They are accused of conspiring to fix prices in the sale of dry phosphatic fertilizer materials in 11 western states.

Cominco president F. E. Burnett said: "We're very surprised at this development. Our company is not guilty of any wrongdoing whatsoever."

The justice department accused the companies of forcing farmers, growers and other purchasers of phosphatic fertilizers to buy the materials under restricted terms.

The indictment charges that the price fixing conspiracy among the companies started in 1957 and continued until at least 1961.

Other companies indicted include California Chemical Co., San Francisco, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. of California; J. R. Simplot Co., Boise, Idaho; and Balfour-Guthrie and Co. Ltd. of San Francisco, a subsidiary of Balfour-Williamson Co. Ltd., London, England.

Red Fishermen Rely On Traps for Salmon

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Soviet fisheries official says Russia relies on traps to harvest its salmon which "now amounts to about 18 per cent" of the world catch.

Prof. Pyotr Moiseyev, deputy director of the National Institute of Fisheries and Oceanography in Moscow, writing in the Vancouver Sun, said the Soviet Union finds trap older homes enjoy lower assessments the most economical and efficient method.

Canada's west coast fleet relies mainly on gillnets and purse seines, one boat handling one net.

"Soviet fishermen catch salmon mostly with anchor or stationary gear placed on the road to migration . . . Prof. Moiseyev wrote.

"Most frequently used are anchor seines, which are actually large traps."

He said most salmon fishing is conducted a few miles offshore and "to a lesser degree in the mouths and lower reaches of rivers."

"This method brings not only fish itself as such, but also high-quality caviar."

"It also makes possible to catch only an amount of fish from the schools going to spawn that will not have an adverse effect on the further reproduction of salmon."

Fiat Auto Firm Investing In Olivetti Typewriters

TURIN (AP) — Italy's giant Fiat Automobile Company has confirmed reports it intends to invest $11,200,000 to $17,000,000 in the Olivetti Typewriter Company in the United States.

There have been persistent reports recently that Fiat might take over Olivetti. Fiat President Vittorio Valletta said April 30 his company had earmarked funds for an Olivetti investment.

In answer to a question at a shareholders meeting he said: "Some have talked about the necessity of going to the rescue of Olivetti. Actually, there is only the necessity of regulating the position of that firm."

"Fiat was requested to take part in this financial adjustment. We said we were prepared to give our contribution as other companies and banks

The transcript of the stockholders' meeting was issued Sunday.

High Rises in Oak Bay Cut Taxes for Homeowner

High-rise apartments mean low-rise taxes for Oak Bay homeowners.

Tax revenue from high-rises is much greater than would be paid if the property were used for one-family house lots.

And the more taxes paid by the high-rises, the less have to come from owners of separate family dwellings.

All this appears to be borne out in a study made by municipal assessor Colin Wyatt.

Using last year's 44.5 mill rate and current assessments of land values, he estimated that the nine-story Rudyard Kipling apartment would produce $13,443 in taxes as compared to $1,352 if the land had been used for five single family homes.

Mr. Wyatt says the seven-storey White House apartment on Beach Drive would bring in $10,207 compared to $1,082 if the property had been divided into residential lots.

He says property use for high-rises means the tax revenue is 10 times greater.

The combined taxes of the two high-rises amounts to three-quarters of a mill compared to 1/15th of a mill if single family homes had been built on the property instead.

On the other hand, he says, the municipality loses when older homes are converted to apartments. This is because the buildings are demolished and the land subdivided for modern small homes there would be greater tax revenue.

Conventions yielding $8,225 have a potential yield of $10,192

if the property was divided.

Municipal engineer Geoffrey White says costs of servicing apartments are lower than if the same number of residents were serviced in separate homes.

This is because most modern apartments have their own garbage disposal units. Water service costs don't increase unless apartments are concentrated in one area.

Profits Increase For Husky Oil

CALGARY (CP) — Husky Oil Canada Ltd. has reported 1964 first-quarter earnings of $653,000 compared with $342,000 in the first three months of 1963.

President Glenn E. Neilson told the company annual meeting Husky would continue large-scale development of its Lloydminster area heavy crude oil production and exploration program, drilling between 75 and 100 wells a year in the next three to five years.

COMMUNION in jail is taken by Rev. Clayton K. Hewett, of Episcopal Church, on "indefinite fast" since arrest 10 days ago during civil rights demonstrations in Chester, Pa. (AP Wirephoto.)

Old Penn State Town 'Birmingham of North'

By LEE LINDER

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — For five months Negroes in this old industrial city have demonstrated in the streets, protesting that their children attend segregated and unequal schools.

Dozens have been hurt, many heads bled, hundreds more jailed. The end is not in sight.

"Chester is the 'Birmingham of the North,' says James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality.

"When they block the streets, when they are disorderly, when they riot instead of march, they are breaking the law," says Mayor James T. Gorby, a 43-year-old lawyer who took office in the midst of the turmoil.

'SAME FOR EVERYBODY'

"The law is the same for everybody, and will be administered for everybody," he says.

Chester, chartered in 1701 by William Penn, is the oldest city in Pennsylvania. It has 63,000 residents, including 27,000 Negroes.

Demonstrators in Chester also are demanding better jobs and more housing. But it's the noisy, fist-swinging, rock-throwing battle to integrate all the schools—a civil rights issue that faces many other Northern U.S. cities—that has filled the jails.

This is the question: "Is a neighborhood school a segregated school?"

CLAIMS INTEGRATION

Negroes say de facto segregation is segregation by design; that it means inferior, unequal education. They demand an immediate end to all Negro schools—four of the 16 here.

The school board insists it operates an integrated system. It says any segregation is unintentional and results because children of one race live in the same neighborhood and go to the same school.

Mrs. Frances P. Donahoo, president of the school board, which has one Negro member, says "to talk about de facto segregation is not to talk about segregation, but about a condition over which we have no control."

She insists the Negro leaders

"ignore the problems of cost, transportation, possible half sessions, need for cafeterias."

Stanley Branche, 30-year-old chairman of a Negro committee, says he isn't advocating transferring of pupils to create a racial balance in all schools.

"But we want the school board to do something and do it now."

What does he suggest?

UP TO BOARD

"Nothing," Branche replies.

"The program must come from the board. We'll sit down with them. We'll talk with them. I met three times with them but they won't budge. They just won't budge."

"We want equal schools. We want to be in the same schools. We don't want second-hand education."

Charles Long, superintendent of schools, says "we definitely are integrated. Every school in our system has Negro children."

"Token, token, token," shouts Branche. "What are 10 or 20 or 30 out of 500 or more? That's not equal."

Long acknowledges that four schools are all-Negro and a fifth has 10 whites among 1,000 pupils. The schools have 11,150 pupils, of whom 6,725 are Negro, to settle the dispute.

Philip Savage, local secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, sometimes has worked with Branche, sometimes ignored him—and sometimes been ignored. He is considered more moderate but, like Branche, was arrested for demonstrating.

Savage looks favorably to efforts of the state human relations commission, or the courts, to settle the dispute.

Mayor Gorby says "most of the Chester Negroes are not behind Branche. He has the support of probably less than one per cent."

"Chester has no civil rights problem. We have equal accommodations, equal opportunities.

A Negro can go anywhere in

RECORDED SERMONS NEXT?

Ringers Sound Sour Note

LONDON (AP) — Britain's 40,000 bell ringers sounded a protest today against mechanical church chimes playing recorded clangs.

"Of course, it's cheaper to have records or tapes," said Canon Gilbert Thurlow, "but psychologically it's exasperating. It's just not as good as the proper rings of bells. It's all very worrying."

Canon Thurlow is president of the central council of bell ringers, an organization with members all over Britain.

"There are two reasons for the increased use of recorded bells," the canon added.

"They are — new churches without towers, and old towers no longer strong enough to hold heavy bells."

Emphasizing that there is optimism among the bell ringers, he added:

"There is some hope, however. We have just finished talks with bell makers and architects. A light weight frame which can be erected inside old towers had been developed. Bells can be erected from this."

Douglas A. Hughes, whose family is one of the country's best known group of bell ringers, joined the protest saying:

"These tapes are terrible. If bells are going to be taped and recorded, then why not tape and record Parsons?"

TOWN AND COUNTRY, HILLSIDE

Bentall's Builders Well Known

Dominion Construction Co. Ltd., builders of the Bentall, are already familiar to Victoria as the creators of the side shopping centres.

Town and Country and Hill-

Rental agent for the new downtown office block is Town and Country Realty Ltd.'s vice-president, Chester Sinden.

The parent firm's connection with B.C. dates right back to 1908, when a young engineer stepped off the train in Vancouver and liked what he saw.

That was Charles Bentall.

He's 82 now and chairman of the board, while his son, H. C. Bentall, carries on as president.

In the 56 years since his arrival at the west coast, Charles Bentall and his company have built pulp mills, office buildings, airport hangars and navy craft during the Second World War.

Dominion Construction built

Vancouver's first industrial estates and pioneered the package plan under which a building is designed, engineered, built and financed to the requirements of the tenant, whose responsibility begins only when he is handed the key.

The company has been forward in its relations with its employees, too. Charles Bentall organized the New Building Finance Co. Ltd., in which his employees can buy 5% per cent debentures.

Employees of Dominion have responded to this opportunity of investing their savings in new buildings. In 1960 they held $750,000 worth of debentures and their holdings were worth $1,500,000.

BENTALL BUILDING rises into Victoria's skyline at the corner of Douglas Street and Fort Street, long the site of Terry's Restaurant. The smart, modern building offers prestige office space in the heart of Victoria's financial and commercial district.

FIRST BIG BLOCK IN 50 YEARS

Bentall Fills Office Need

First major prestige office building to rise in Victoria for more than half a century, The Bentall at Douglas and Fort Streets takes its bow this week.

An eight-storey, $1,500,000 building, the Bentall is named for the family behind its builders, Dominion Construction Co. Ltd.—Charles Bentall, founder of the firm and its chairman of the board, and his son, H. C. Bentall, its president.

Found a Need

It all started several years ago when the firm undertook a study and discovered there was a need for new and modern office space in downtown Victoria.

"We selected the Fort and Douglas Street site because we feel it is the financial and commercial centre of downtown Victoria," said Douglas Sutcliffe, manager of Dominion's B.C. division.

The survey and the choice of site promptly proved correct. Original plans called for a six-storey building but the response was so swift and favorable when the plans were announced that an additional two storeys were added to the building.

Smart Lines

As it stands now, the clean, smart lines of the building's glass and stone profile enclose a total of 47,500 square feet of office space.

Entrance is gained off Douglas Street through plastic-faced Permodoors into the high-ceilinged tile and marble lobby from where two high-speed elevators serve the upper floors.

The ground floor was specially designed to suit the needs of its three tenants—International Business Machines, Toronto-Dominion Bank and James Richardson and Sons.

Great Flexibility

The next two floors have been laid out to be specially attractive to doctors, dentists and other professional people who require comparatively small offices.

From the fourth to the eighth floor the building can accommodate virtually any tenants' special needs. (The entire top floor has been leased by the law firm of Crease and Co.).

The building's flexibility is built in. There are no posts to interfere with office floor plans.

Pillars and Core

This has been accomplished by supporting the building by pillars on its perimeter walls and by the central core, which houses the elevator shaft and washroom facilities.

Interior walls are filled with rockwall insulation, providing soundproofing as well as additional fire-proofing.

Air conditioning completely changes the air in the Bentall eight times every hour.

The air conditioning system is complete with a zonal control system so that various areas of each floor can be individually adjusted to suit personal comfort.

The Bentall's design has allowed for a new touch of greenery in Victoria's downtown. The set-back will be landscaped into a small park in the sky.

Fourth 'Bentall'

Victoria's Bentall building is the fourth in the west. Dominion Construction Co. Ltd. has previously built others in Vancouver, Edmonton and Calgary.

History's Mysteries

The Bentall's story began publicly with the announcement of the plan in November, 1962, following purchase of the property from O. B. Taylor.

At the time, McEwan's Restaurant and pharmacy were operating on the site in premises which had long been known to Victoria as Terry's Restaurant. This cafe, with its long counter, formed an integral part of growing up for a generation and more of Victorians.

So it was with nostalgia that Victorians watched the first stage, the tearing down of the old building (which was accomplished a week ahead of schedule).

But nostalgia gave way to mystery before long.

A number of old pipes were discovered, 2½ inches in diameter. The mystery surrounding them was cleared up when it was found that they had been part of the equipment of a company which had once operated a central heating plant and sold heat to nearby buildings.

There was the matter of the concrete "fingers" on which the Bentall now stands. There are 60 of these holes drilled to bedrock anywhere from 16 to 29 feet down and then filled with concrete.

While drilling was in progress late last July one of the augers just disappeared.

Investigation showed the drill had chewed through a concrete slab cover and fallen into an old well that extended 34 feet down to bedrock. Lined with brick that had partly caved in, the ready-made hole was just filled with cement, though it took nearly three times as much as the other piers.

Catholics Find Texts Racially Okay

NEW YORK (AP)—A three-year study by Roman Catholic educationists found that Catholic religious textbooks normally point up virtues of racial and ethnic groups but often contain negative and distorted statements in reference to specific non-Catholic religious groups.

The self-analysis conducted at St. Louis University, a Jesuit school, also found that the texts were overwhelmingly positive in their approach to general inter-group teachings dealing with "all men."

"But negative and distorted statements are found to be more prevalent in references to Protestants, Jews and other specific non-Catholic religious groups," the report said.

The results of the study were announced jointly Saturday by Rev. Paul C. Reinhart, president of St. Louis University, and Morris B. Abram, president of the American Jewish Committee.

CLEARED by Leningrad court of having had affair with British prostitute Christine Keeler, Capt. Yevgeny Ivanov of Soviet navy has been restored to active-duty. Court ruled Ivanov used contacts with Christine and Dr. Stephen Ward to meet influential Britons, and that Soviet intelligence knew and approved of his actions.

Refugees Attack Cuba Marchers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Canada-to-Cuba "peace marchers" reached Miami Saturday and ran into prompt opposition from a group of Cuban refugees.

The marchers, who set out last May 26 from Quebec City bound for Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, walked slowly around the Dade County courthouse for nearly two hours in a hot sun.

A tight ring of helmeted policemen surrounded the marchers, but no trouble developed until five minutes before the pickets planned to disband at 1 p.m.

Then eight young Cubans scrambled through the police lines toward the pickets. A few punches were thrown and two Cubans and one marcher were taken to jail.

The peace marchers were delayed for nearly two months at Albany, Ga., where 27 were in jail on charges of failing to follow a prescribed parade route and related charges.

They don't know yet how they will get on to Guantanamo. No transportation has been arranged and the U.S. state department has not validated their passports for travel to Cuba.

HAS HE ONLY SECOND-CLASS WEAPONS?

Can Castro Rockets Hit U-2s?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia is believed to have taken home the top-grade anti-aircraft missiles it installed in Cuba, leaving Fidel Castro with second-class weapons to back up threats against U.S. surveillance flights.

This is the word in some Washington quarters as officials wait to see what Castro will do to support his assertion that "we will prevent these flights to the limits of what our weapons can do."

It could mean the limit of capability for the ground-launched missiles apparently being turned over by the Russians to Cuban forces is less than when Soviet troops manned the 24 launching sites.

And this could mean that what Castro now has can't reach up to the altitude at which the U-2 surveillance planes have been flying untouched—except for one apparently knocked down by a Russian rocket in 1962.

DENIAL LIKELY

Any suggestion that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has downgraded the quality of the anti-aircraft weapons placed in the hands of Castro is almost certain to bring sharp denials from the Cuban leader and, perhaps, from Moscow.

Castro recently has exhibited sensitivity over the Cuban missile situation. When reports circulated Thursday that U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler had discussed the matter of surveillance flights with Khrushchev's first vice-chief, Anastas Mikoyan, Castro said the question should have been discussed with Cuba, not Russia.

Shoots Brother

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An Indianapolis teen-ager was shot to death by his younger brother Sunday because he refused to share his ice cream, police said. Willie Williams, 15, was hit by a shotgun charge fired at point-blank range by his 12-year-old brother, Charles, who later blurted to his mother: "I shot him—I said I would and I did."

Alaska Quake Loss Under Estimates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, (Dem., N.M.) says earthquake damage in Alaska is turning out to be less than anticipated.

He predicts residents of the state will "be back on their feet by Christmas."

Anderson, chairman of a presidential commission on Alaska reconstruction, said Friday the original estimate of $100,000,000 on highway damage is now down to $25,000,000 to $30,000,000.

He said some buildings in Anchorage, once thought to be a total loss, have been found to be repairable at much less cost.

The fishing fleet would be in "fine shape." Boats were being repaired in a floating Navy drydock in Kodiak, and other boats, available for charter, were being located. This year's fish catch would not be off more than 1 per cent because of the earthquake.

Anderson visited Alaska early this week.

He reported that a team of top geologists is going to Alaska to recommend areas suitable for reconstruction in Anchorage, Kodiak, Seward and Valdez.

Anderson said conflicting geological opinion in Anchorage has resulted in designation of large areas as unsafe for construction, denial of building permits, and refusal of bank loans for reconstruction and repair.

Khrushchev denied any U.S.-Soviet understanding had been reached. And he said any violation of Cuban sovereignty, including intrusions into air surveillance flights.

space could have "disastrous consequences."

The report that the Cuban air defence system had been downgraded could help explain the planes.

Washington's calm insistence that it will go ahead with the surveillance flights despite Cuba's threat to shoot down the planes.

Mr. Marichal Is Juan Heck Of A Pitcher . . .

UPI

Juan Marichal doesn't get as many headlines as Willie Mays and Sandy Koufax, but it's possible that he's every bit as valuable as both of 'em.

And, in any event, he is the B-I-G reason San Francisco Giants have moved into a first-place tie with Philadelphia Phillies for the National League lead.

Mays is something special right out of a story book, of course, and Koufax proved his greatness in 1963 with a 25-5 record, 306 strikeouts and a 1.88 earned run average that earned him the MVP award and the Cy Young trophy as the major leagues' pitcher of the year.

Somewhat overlooked, however, was Marichal's 25-8 record, 248 strikeouts and a 2.41 ERA.

The 26-year-old right-hander from the Dominican Republic has picked up right where he left off last season with four straight victories, including Sunday's 6-3 triumph over Los Angeles Dodgers. He has a two-year streak of 10 consecutive victories and he has beaten the arch-rival Dodgers in five of their last seven meetings.

McCovey 'HELPED'

A crowd of 52,309 in Los Angeles saw Marichal pitch a six-hitter and strike out five Sunday behind a nine-hit attack that included a single and a homer by Mays, extending his hitting streak to 10 games. Two of the Dodgers' runs resulted in the first inning when left-fielder Willie McCovey misplayed Willie Davis' apparently routine fly into a two-run home.

Looking as impressive as they did Friday in their 5-0 rout of Woodstock, Maroons jumped to a 3-0 lead after the first period, battled scoreless through the second, then exploded for four goals in the third.

The only Woodstock goal, scored by Tommy Wilson at 16:26 of the third period, snapped Winnipeg goaltender Don Collins' shutout streak at 116 minutes and 26 seconds.

As they once again humiliated the Athletics' defence, Maroons spread their scoring evenly among Bernie Grebinsky, Aggie Kukulowicz, Lou Joyal, Al Johnson, Bill Johnson, Ron Farnfield and Murray Couch.

In a game marred by displays of temper, referee Bill Roberts of Montreal, handed out 21 penalties, 12 to Maroons. Woodstock's Art Sullivan drew a spearing major and Grebinsky and Ron Hergett of Athletics, each got 10-minute misconducts.

Island Body Urges Change In 'Spiel Date'

The Pacific Coast Curling Association will consider a proposal today to revert the Totem Bonspiel to pre-Christmas dates with the two top teams qualifying for PCCA playoffs leading to the Canadian championships.

The proposals will be made by the Vancouver Island delegates to the PCCA's annual meeting here.

The Totem—PCCA's official competition—was started in 1955 by Vancouver zone clubs and was played in late November. When the PCCA took over, two years ago the bonspiel was scheduled in late January.

The PCCA championship is held before the Totem.

Vancouver Island delegates feel their proposal is the only way the Totem will entice more entries from the Island and Fraser Valley. The Totem last season attracted only one entry from Vancouver Island and only a total of 10 out-of-town rinks.

Negro Pro Tops

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Pete Brown, 29-year-old Negro golf professional from Los Angeles, took first prize money of $2,700.16 in the $20,000 Waco Turner Open tournament Sunday.

Hank Fischer pitched a two-hitter to best Art Mahaffey and score his third straight win for the Braves. The erstwhile relief pitcher also drove in the game's only run when he singled in the second inning after a double by Joe Torre and a walk to Denis Menke.

Kasapi Records Double Triumph

Kasapi Construction jumped off to a fast start in Independent Athletic Association's men's softball Sunday.

Kasapi edged William Head, 5-4 and 3-2, on the latter's grounds.

Gordy Houston fired a five-hitter and struck out 11 in the opener. Russ Gillies was the winning pitcher in the finale, thanks to a last-inning home run by Len Potter.

Burnaby's Best

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—

Pete Brown, 29-year-old Negro golf professional from Los Angeles, took first prize money of $2,700.16 in the $20,000 Waco Turner Open tournament Sunday.

By midnight more than 1,200 signatures had been placed on a telegram protesting action by Harold Ballard, executive vice-president of Maple Leaf Gardens, which scuttled planned play-by-play broadcasts of the game by radio station CHED here.

West's Champs Two Up

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Maroons, breaking fast and checking the length of the ice, overwhelmed Woodstock Athletics 7-1 Sunday to take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven Allan Cup final.

Looking as impressive as they did Friday in their 5-0 rout of Woodstock, Maroons jumped to a 3-0 lead after the first period, battled scoreless through the second, then exploded for four goals in the third.

The only Woodstock goal, scored by Tommy Wilson at 16:26 of the third period, snapped Winnipeg goaltender Don Collins' shutout streak at 116 minutes and 26 seconds.

Last-Hole Bird Breaks Big Slide by Nicklaus

ONE AMATEUR, PRO TRIO ADVANCE TO SEMIFINALS

CHILLIWACK — Defending champion Lyle Crawford, Al Nelson, Bob Cox and amateur Don Gardner of Vancouver Capilano advanced to the semi-finals of Vancouver city match play tournament Sunday as high winds blew three professionals out of the competition.

Going into Sunday's final round with a three-stroke lead as a result of the seven-under-par performance, Nicklaus increased it to five strokes at one point before his game suddenly fell to pieces on the back nine.

In the end, he sank a birdie putt on the last hole to break a tie with Al Geiberger, who went one over par, to finish with an inelegant 73 and a 72-hole total of 279 for the $12,000 first money.

SEMI-FINALS will be held at Vancouver's Shaughnessy course next weekend.

Firefighters Click, Face United In Semis

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Firefighters Sunday won the Pacific Coast Soccer League championship, defeating defending champion Vancouver Canadians 3-1 in a play-off game before some 2,000 fans.

The two teams had tied with 34 points each in the regular league schedule, forcing the playoff.

The game also provided the draw for the league semifinals which start next weekend: Firefighters will play fourth-place Victoria United and Canadians will meet third-place Columbus.

Firefighters dominated the first half of the game scoring all three goals before haltime. Centre forward Jim Blundell scored twice and right winger Louis Trischuk the other goal as the Firefighters never allowed the Canadians to settle down.

Canadians came back slightly in the second half but could manage only one goal, an opportunist effort by inside left Normie McLeod with 13 minutes remaining.

Grant Treloar emerged top Vancouver competitor Sunday in the finals of the annual north-west invitational open and age-group swim meet, sponsored by Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club at the B.C. Olympic pool.

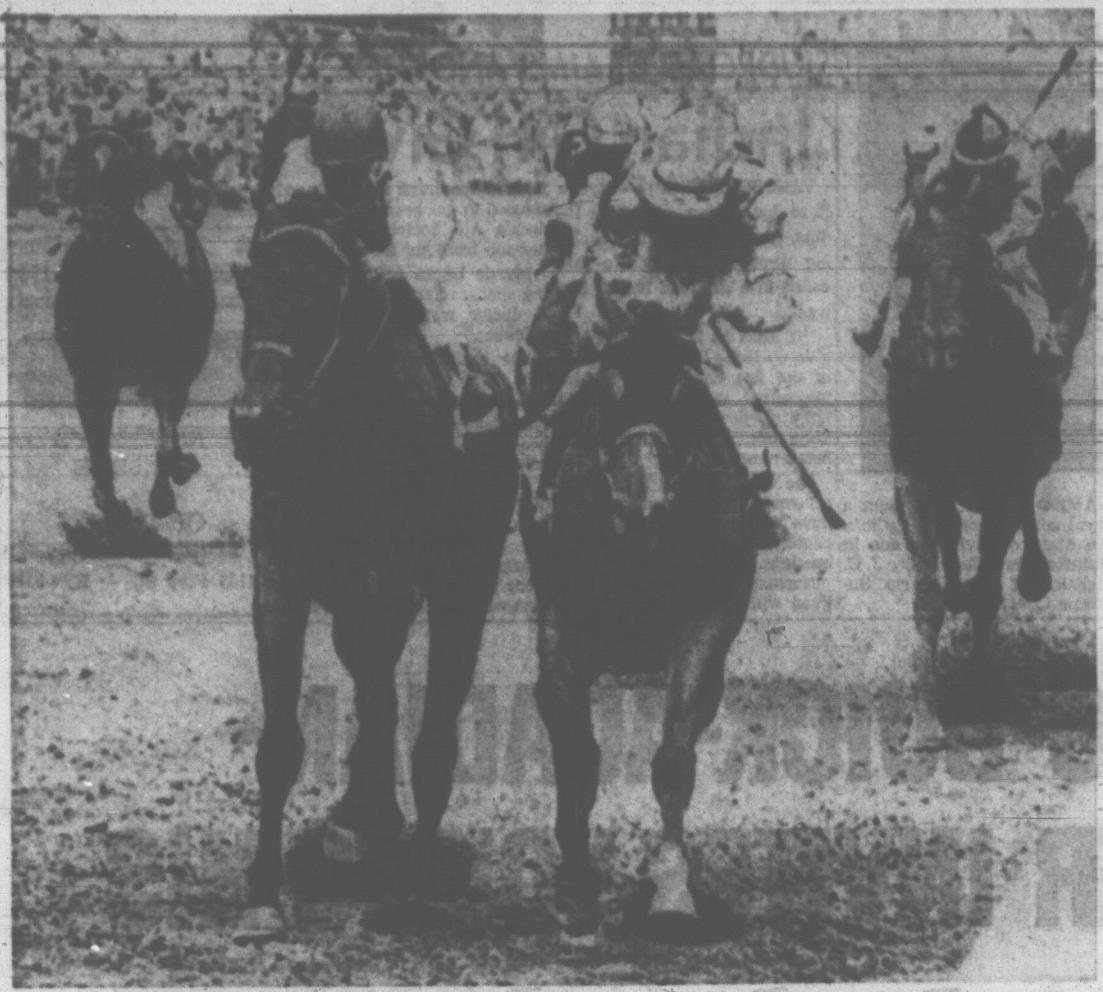

Over 650 swimmers from 28 clubs entered the two-day event, the largest in the northwest.

Treloar, of the Victoria Olympics, captured two first-place finishes in boys 13 and 14-year-old events. He won the 100 metre freestyle with a time of one minute, 1.3 seconds, and the 100 metre backstroke in 1.09.5.

Teammate Ross Bruce took third in boys 11 and 12-year-old 100 metres breaststroke with a time of 1.30.5.

SECOND DEFEAT

Irish Tattoo Sad Melody

NANAIMO—Close doesn't count and Victoria Shamrocks are still looking for their first victory of the Inter-City Lacrosse League season.

Shamrock snipers played a goalpost tattoo here Saturday night but not enough Victoria shots found their way into the net to prevent Nanaimo from making it two straight victories over the Rocks.

Coach Buddy Dumont's Nanaimo youngsters again made hustle and spirit pay off as they grabbed a 13-10 triumph over the Irish. Roman had opened the season last Wednesday with a 24 victory at Victoria.

Shamrocks, displaying more cohesion than they did in the opening game, staged a rally after trailing 11-6 going into the final quarter. They trimmed the deficit to 12-10 with five minutes remaining, but Victoria penalties set the stage for Larry Biggs to fire his third goal of the night and ice the decision.

ASHBEE SIDELINED

"Our team looked and played better and we could have won it," said Victoria manager Hector McNeill. "After we started counting we had 10 shots bounce off goalposts. And there were at least four before that."

Shamrocks were without the playing services of coach Don Ashbee, sidelined with blood poisoning in a knee he injured in the Victoria game.

Ashbee is a doubtful starter for Tuesday's game at Vancouver, but the Rocks will probably be bolstered by the addition of brother Barry Ashbee, who was due to arrive in Victoria today.

Larsen Sparks Cricket Victory

Ned Larsen wielded a mighty bat at Shawnigan Lake Sunday and paced Shawnigan to a Victoria and District Cricket Association victory over Albions.

With Larsen running up 51 runs not out, Shawnigan scored 77 for two wickets after dismissing Albions for 76 runs.

In another match at Beacon Hill Park, Cowichan downed Five C's 125-34. P. Jenkinson bowled five wickets for ten for the winners.

CUB HAND FARMED

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Cubs have optioned infielder Paul Popovich to Salt Lake City of Pacific Coast League.

'Blood and Guts' Colt Sniffs Derby's Roses

Northern Dancer First Canadian To Make It

LOUISVILLE (CP-AP)—Northern Dancer, first Canadian-bred ever to wear the Kentucky Derby's roses around his neck, goes after a similar garland of black-eyed susans in the Preakness May 16.

The stout-hearted little colt these three were the only surviving candidate for the triple crown Saturday when he won a stretch duel with the favored Hill Rise to capture the 90th running of the Derby by a neck in the record time of two minutes flat.

If he wins the Preakness, over 1 3/4 miles—1 1/16 shorter than the Derby distance—at Pimlico, he'll have the 1 1/4-mile Belmont Stakes to conquer to become the first triple-crown winner since Citation pulled it off in 1948.

But trainer Horatio Luro, who saddled Northern Dancer for Windfields Farm, owned by Toronto industrialist E. P. Taylor, says a sweep of the three classic lacks the significance it had in former years.

"It doesn't mean much to win the triple crown anymore," the Argentine said today. "When the moment they get on the track."

'Somebody Has to Run Second . . .'

Luro was scheduled to ship Northern Dancer to Baltimore today. Hill Rise, owned by El Peo ranch of George Pope Jr., also will head east for the classic, as will The Scoundrel, who finished third in the Derby.

Willie Shoemaker, who rode Hill Rise, offered no excuse for his horse, who was trying to catch the winner in the final sixteenth of a mile. Early in April, Shoemaker decided not to ride Northern Dancer in the Derby, saying he thought Hill Rise was a much better horse.

"Shoemaker rode a perfect race too," Luro said. "But somebody has to run second."

Northern Dancer finished two fifths of a second faster than the record set two years ago by El Peo's Decidedly, also trained by Luro and ridden by Hartack.

Northern Dancer, who took the lead in the $156,000 Derby as the field of 12 made the stretch turn, covered the last quarter of a mile in 24 seconds, tying a record set in 1941 by Whirlaway.

Following the top three, in order, were Roman Brother, Quadrangle, Mr. Moonlight and The Scoundrel.

Shoemaker rode a perfect race too," Luro said. "But somebody has to run second."

Civil Rights Debate Hits Methodists

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Controversy over the race question continued on and off the floor today at the 1964 general conference of the Methodist church in the U.S.

In the forefront was a report endorsing civil disobedience within "most carefully circumscribed limits." The report, "Christian social concerns," was scheduled for debate tonight.

Meanwhile, integrationists forces moved behind the scenes to bring back to the floor a plan calling for integration within the church on a voluntary and gradual basis. Integrationists want the plan strengthened.

The "Christian social concerns" report was presented during the weekend by Rev. Harold A. Bosley, New York pastor.

Part of the report said: "Christians have long recognized that after exhausting every reasonable legal means for redress of grievances, the individual is faced with the moral and legal dilemma of whether or not his peculiar circumstances require obedience to God rather than men."

MAKE OWN JUDGMENT

The report also contends that individuals must make such judgment in certain instances in the current struggle for racial justice.

"In rare instances where legal recourse is unavailable for redress of grievances from laws which are clearly unjust or immoral, the individual is justified in obeying God's authority rather than man's. Even then, meticulous care must be taken to prevent proliferation of civil disobedience beyond most carefully circumscribed limits."

During debate Saturday Rev. G. Ross Freeman of Atlanta, Ga., moved for removal of the paragraph referring to obedience to God's authority rather than man's.

WOULD BE TRAGIC

"It would be tragic for the news to go from this place that the Methodist church endorses civil disobedience and, therefore, anarchy," he said.

65 MPH Freeway Opens in Burnaby

VANCOUVER (CP) — One of the last Trans-Canada Highway links in the west was forged Friday when the 65-mile-an-hour Burnaby Freeway was opened.

The 11-mile four-lane highway zips traffic from the Port Mann bridge, still under construction across the Fraser River through Coquitlam and Burnaby to a point just inside Vancouver's boundary.

The freeway and bridge linking Vancouver with a 70-mile four-lane system east to Chilliwack in the Fraser Valley, member for 12 years of the was originally estimated to cost parliamentary staff of The Canadian Press. Construction of both projects

Construction of the highway, geared to handle 50 cars in each direction per minute, involved building .9 miles of arterial highway, 7.2 miles of local street reconstruction, nine interchanges, six raised highway crossings, four raised railway crossings and two minor bridges.

NAMED Friday to conduct a royal commission inquiry into the state of civil liberties in Ontario was Chief Justice J.C. McRuer of the Ontario Supreme Court.

SKIDROAD CLAIMS ANOTHER

Indian Girl Gives Up Living

VANCOUVER (CP) — Myrtle Rose Joe, a tiny, attractive Indian, died Saturday after trudging through a weary life that ended in a skidroad hotel. She was 22.

"It looks as if she decided to give up living," said a member of the fire department inhalation squad that rushed her to hospital, desperately trying to keep her alive with external heart massage.

She was the latest in a string of young Indian women who have died on the skidroad because of excessive drinking or beatings.

Norman Kendall, who said he lived with Myrtle since March a drinking bout and a series of beatings.

EX-MOUNTIE BOSS EYES TV PRIVATE EYES' FUN

NEW YORK (CP) — C. W. Harvison, retired commissioner of the RCMP, said Sunday he's looking for a job.

"I've retired, so you see I'm unemployed," the commissioner told 1,000 New York City policemen.

"We see a lot of your television shows in Canada and I've admired the exploits of the private eyes."

He noted the luxurious convertible cars, the unlimited expense accounts, the girls who brighten the scenery, the simplicity with which the TV detectives accomplish their missions, then added:

"That's the sort of job I'm looking for — these fellows have more fun in 25 minutes every week than I had in 45 years in police work."

Indian Right To Hunt At Issue

WILLIAMS LAKE (CP)—Magistrate David Moffet reserved decision until June 24 when Simon Pigeon of the Anaham Indian Reserve appeared in court Saturday charged with possessing a beaver pelt without a permit.

When told that Pigeon did not have a provincial permit to hunt or fish, the magistrate said Indians, under the Indian Act, have the right to hunt and fish without interference.

"We allow them to hunt, but they must get a permit," replied Pat Mulligan, senior conservation officer. He said the permit was free.

"We don't allow them to hunt," said the magistrate.

"They have the right to hunt."

The magistrate said Indians' rights were established by Parliament and a provincial statute could not supersede this. Mr. Mulligan said the Indian Act states that Indians must also obey provincial regulations.

Event and Walt Acreman won the men's high three (team). Other local winners were Hilda Hoshal, high single holder, and John Markin, men's high single (team).

Ray, Art Moreau, Ed Peters and Stu Wardrop, picked up the team championship.

THREE SPECIALS

Victoria's finest, hosting the tourney for the first time, were at their best in competition for special trophies, taking three of four awards.

Walt Acreman chalked up the high three-game series in the team event. John Markin fired the top single game in the team event and Don Sepka posted the top one-game handicap tally in singles.

Tom O'Brien, Spokane, broke the local monopoly on special prizes by rolling the high scratch game in singles.

Seattle's Jeanette Gray won the women's event, followed by Nor Hardy, Victoria; Coleen McCulloch, Vancouver, and Sandra Knapp, Seattle.

Samarkand Saved In Flood Threat

MOSCOW (AP) — A second big blast of explosives in the landslide blocking the Zeravshan River in Soviet central Asia has paved the way to draining a lake that had threatened Samarkand.

Descriptions of impending disaster in the official Soviet press were denounced by a deputy premier at a press conference in the area Saturday.

"The disastrous flood which allegedly threatens to destroy the cities and oases in the Zeravshan valley is out of the question," Ignaty Novikov said in Dushanbe, capital of the Soviet tadzhik republic.

Cities of the area were endangered.

Tass quoted specialists as saying a blast by more than 200 tons of explosives Friday "solved the problem of draining the water from the newly formed artificial lake."

The first blast last Monday of more than 30 tons of explosives began cutting a canal through the landslide blocking the mountain river.

Cars Found Wrecked After Strippers' Raid

TCA Extends Cut Rate To Four Days

Bid Made to Regain Ferry-Hit Business

A. I. THOMAS

Popular Models Taken From City

By PETE LOUDON

Two similar cases of car-stripping in a one-month period suggest an up-Island gang is preying on Victoria car owners.

In both cases the cars were taken from Victoria streets and abandoned on side roads off the Island Highway.

In both cases also, the thieves smashed every window in the cars after removing parts of value to them.

And in one case at least, the cars were cleansed of all fingerprints, suggesting the thieves were not new to the game and had their prints on file.

"It must be a planned operation," said Al Morgan of Morgan and Tucker service station, whose car was taken March 26 and later found in dense brush off Jinglepot Road, north of Nanaimo. He said his car was locked when it was stolen.

"CUSTOMIZERS"

He said also, it was a 1950 Meteor—a model popular with the set which likes to "customize" cars.

The most recent victim was Victoria nurse Barbara Whiteley, 28, of 2814 Inez, who lost her car a week ago while it was parked near her home in the Gorge area.

It was found Sunday in dense woods near Shawnigan Lake. It also had been locked when it was stolen. A 1956 Anglia, which police said contained an engine of a type popular for boats, it was systematically wrecked.

Every window was shattered as if by an axe. The seats and upholstery were torn out and the tires removed. Two were taken, the others tossed aside. The transmission and the engine were taken away.

$50 REWARD

Miss Whiteley, who said she had no theft insurance, said she will give $50 to any person who provides information leading to the arrest and conviction of the responsible parties.

Both victims feel it would be impossible for one person to have carried away the missing parts. Miss Whiteley said the engine number is No. 100E279687.

Anyone being offered such an engine for sale should also notify police if the engine number has been removed.

MAGISTRATE DIES SUDDENLY AT 69

Magistrate Albert Isaac (Bert) Thomas died Sunday night, only two days after coming out of hospital. He was 69.

Magistrate Thomas, Esquimalt reeve from 1947 to 1951, entered Royal Jubilee Hospital last month following a heart attack. On Friday he was released and intended spending three months in Vancouver convalescing.

Starting June 1, the $9 economy return fare from Victoria to Vancouver now good for one day will be extended to cover four days.

The economy excursion rate to Seattle will be $13.

First class excursion fares will be $12 return to Vancouver and $17 to Seattle.

District sales manager S. G. Mooney conceded TCA can't beat B.C. government ferries, but said the airline hopes to win back some of the passengers it has lost since the ferry service started in 1961.

Mr. Mooney also said that C & C Transportation Co. is considering extending its one-day cut rate for limousine service to and from the airports in Vancouver and Victoria.

The current limousine fare totals $5 return. A one-day return rate which C & C would make available for four days totals $3.20.

PUC APPROVAL

C and C will have to apply to the provincial Public Utilities Commission for permission to make the change.

At present anyone making an overnight flying visit to Vancouver must pay $16 economy and $22 first class.

The overnight return fare to Seattle is $26 economy and $34 first class.

These rates will still apply on a trip lasting more than four days.

ONE-YEAR TEST

Mr. Mooney said the new excursion rates will be tried on an experimental basis for one year.

They will only be continued if there is an "acceptable" increase in traffic.

Mr. Mooney said this is the first time TCA has offered an excursion rate to Seattle.

In Ottawa, Gerry will visit the House of Commons, Government House, the Supreme Court, National Research Council, Royal Mint, RCMP training depot, be given a citizenship certificate and hear addresses by prominent citizens at dinners and luncheons.

Besides that, he will take part in group discussions led by university professors and study the National Capital Plan.

On his return to Victoria, Gerry will give talks of his experience in the secondary schools.

Art of Painting on Velvet Now Reduced to Simplicity

By PENNY SAVER

Painting on black or white velvet is an art that has long been left to the experts.

This particular type of oil painting calls for a sureness and dexterity of the hand that cannot be achieved without extensive practice. Because of the absorbability of this fabric, the artist must often use from two to four coats of oils before he achieves the desired effect.

Using oil paints on velvet is not as simple as swishing your brush across the surface as you would with a canvas painting. It requires using specific types of brushes and dabbing the paint on the velvet before spreading it across any definite area.

This all sounds difficult and time-consuming, but because of its popularity, this art has been reduced to less than the simplicity of paint-by-numbers.

Shop I was in recently carries mounted, pre-coded panels of velvet that are ready to paint.

Velvet is coded in the same way as paint-by-number sets and comes complete with special stiff bristle brushes, oils, paint remover and instruction sheet.

Paint is applied in a thorough even coat and brushed lightly into the velvet. Any mistakes can be removed with some of the brush cleaner.

The dull glazed look that appears after the first coat of paint will disappear after the second or third ones have been applied. Price of these sets ranges upwards from $5.75.

For name of shop selling these sets, call Penny at 382-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Starting Now You Can Weigh
10 Pounds Less In Nine Days

Sometimes when I'm writing item. You can substitute one vegetable for another. However, this doesn't mean that you can put potatoes in the place of greens, although potatoes (baked) have a legitimate place on slimming menus.

If you have been hovering around a good figure for a long time, or a short time, why not lose those few pounds in nine days?

Here are the menus for Tuesday:

BREAKFAST

Half grapefruit

One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast

Black coffee

MID-MORNING

Glass of tomato juice

LUNCHEON

Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing

One slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat)

One glass skimmed milk

One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast

MID-AFTERNOON

Glass of tomato juice

DINNER

One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces)

One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)

One-half cup string beans

One glass skimmed milk

One apple

If you would like to have the complete diet in a booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper. It will not only help you with gussets, but many similar type details.

WISHFUL THINKING
DEAR WISHFUL: You can't call the men in the white coats and ask them to come and throw a net over him. But you can call your family doctor and tell him what you have told me. Together you can work out a scheme to get your husband to submit to a physical examination. The mental examination can be subtly worked in without arousing suspicion. There is help for your husband's illness (and it is an illness)—and it's more common than you think.

JUBILEE HOSPITAL

Graduation Ceremonies In The Royal Theatre

Royal Theatre was filled to capacity, Sunday evening, when families and friends gathered for impressive graduation exercises for the 1964 class of the Royal Jubilee Hospital School of Nursing.

When the curtains rose to mark opening of the ceremony, 62 nurses in white uniforms, each holding an arm bouquet of red roses and greenery, were seated on the raised dais.

Brilliant red carnations against a background of fern decorated the stage and stair railing. A large replica of the hospital symbol dominated the background.

Program opened with musical selections by the student nurses' glee club under direction of Mary Wood. Rev. F. E. H. James gave the invocation.

Greetings were extended on behalf of the provincial government, city council and the hospital medical staff, by deputy minister of hospital insurance, Donald M. Cox, Mayor R. B. Wilson and Dr. D. M. Whitley, respectively.

Prof. Robert T. D. Wallace, dean of administration and acting dean of faculty of arts and science, University of Victoria addressed the graduating class.

The "Robert S. and Patience Day Memorial Scholarship", presented to the graduate nurse who had attained highest degree of general proficiency in theoretical and practical work and who also possesses "those qualities of mind and spirit which should characterize the members of the nursing profession and enable them to uphold the high

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davies entertained at a family dinner in their Musgrave Street home recently in honor of Mr. Davies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Davies, who were celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. Also attending were another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davies and family. Later in the evening, friends from the CNIB Villas gathered in the couple's home to honor them at a surprise party. Congratulatory telegrams were received from Lieutenant-Governor George R. Pearkes, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Mayor R. B. Wilson.

Italian Haute Couture Draws Many Guests

If reservations are any indication, the Crystal ballroom of the Empress Hotel will be packed to capacity on Wednesday evening for the mammoth fashion show, "Italy Today," which will be followed by a novel wine and cheese tasting party.

Affair, which will offer exciting examples of the finest in Italian designing, is under the sponsorship of the Women's Committee to the Victoria Symphony Society, the Italian trade commissioner and a local department store.

RESEARCH SHIP VISITS VICTORIA

Vema a Mixed-Up Vessel

But She Digs That Crust

By RON SUDLOW

Vema, a U.S. oceanographic research vessel, berthed at Esquimalt this morning before leaving for the Far East to study structure of the earth's crust beneath ocean sediments off the coast of Japan.

The ship is operated by

Lamont Geological Observatory of

Columbia University at Palisades,

New York.

Vema is a mixed-up ship. She flies the Panamanian flag, carries

U.S. scientists and is manned by a Canadian crew from Nova Scotia.

And later in her 10-month around-the-world voyage she will be teamed with a group of Japanese scientists.

FURTHERMORE

To confuse the issue even more, the 202-foot, 743-ton re search vessel used to be a three-masted pleasure schooner. She was built in 1923 and taken over by Columbia University 12 years ago.

She is now diesel-powered, but in her days as a pleasure craft, Vema carried about 1,000 square feet of sail.

We used to do quite a bit of sailing until we installed an anti-rolling device," said her skipper,

Captain Henry C. Kohler of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia.

During her three-day Victoria visit, Vema will take on supplies and prepare for shipment to New York metal tubes

on her three-month voyage

Armed Arsenal In Every Home PRAY's Goal

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Stock up on rifles, shotguns, pistols, arm every member of your family who can shoot a gun to protect your life."

That is what state Attorney General Stanley Mosk said. An organization named Paul Revere's Associated Yeoman Inc. (PRAY) advocated in predicted widespread violence after the November election.

Mosk, in a Law Day address at San Diego State College, said PRAY was urging persons to prepare by turning their homes into armed arsenals.

He quoted from a PRAY circular which urged readers:

"Join the National Rifle Association . . . Join the Minutemen . . . Be your own leader of your own household . . . and make it an armed arsenal. Prepare yourself and your sons to fight in the streets, in the alleys . . ."

Mosk said the circular could not be dismissed as the "raving of only one demented man."

Man Pinned Under Wreck

WEST VANCOUVER (CP) —

Edward Schiller, 21, of Albemarle was pinned under his wrecked car for nearly 30 minutes during the weekend after it went out of control and overturned on the Upper Levels Highway.

He is in good condition in hospital with lacerations and possible internal injuries.

Police said Schiller's car went out of control on a curve near Horseshoe Bay, ran on to the shoulder, flipped over, skidded along its roof and ended in the ditch.

The driver was hurled through the windshield and landed under the hood.

CROWDED OUT of daily feast of oranges is three-week-old baby sidling up to its mother at Addo Elephant Park, Port Elizabeth, South Africa.

The youngster is newest addition to the herd, now number 37, which once faced extinction. (AP Wirephoto.)

BUT LIBRARY WILL SURVIVE

Heart Stops Beating In Campus Transplant

By AB KENT

A large part of a living institution died Saturday on sunny Lansdowne slope.

The well-clipped gardens dropped gently away from University of Victoria buildings lent cemetery-like solemnity to the scene.

For Saturday, in effect, was the last day of the session for undergraduates, their last contact with the Ewing library.

When they go back in the fall the tiny, crowded rooms with their stack upon stack of books and familiar study areas will have vanished as if they hadn't existed.

Laing Adds 'If' To Offer of Aid For Wave Victims

POR ALBERNI (CP)—Northern Affairs Minister Arthur Laing said Sunday the federal government is ready to help residents of areas stricken by the Good Friday tidal waves.

Such aid, he said, would be forthcoming if the British Columbia government declared it was beyond provincial capacity.

Mr. Laing toured the Alberni-Port Alberni area Sunday where four tidal surges—aftermath of

ISLAND DIGEST

32 Victoria Daily Times
MONDAY, MAY 4, 1964

Sea Victim Ran Race Of His Life

QUATSINO (CP)—Walter Barclay, 64, won 14-hour races for his life during the weekend.

Stranded on an island in wet clothing and with no way of making a fire, the retired bank employee raced up and down a beach and piled stones.

"I didn't see any other way of keeping warm than running," he said Sunday. "So I ran—the race of my life I suppose one could say."

He said his 12-foot boat was swamped by a large wave Saturday night while he was returning to this northern Vancouver Island community.

He swam 100 yards to shore. Twice during the night boats passed. He was picked up cold, hungry and tired in the morning after hours of running.

"(Running) was the only way I could keep from freezing to death. It was cold and windy and towards morning the temperature went below freezing point as I saw ice forming."

SHOPS BLOSSOM

Native Artists Rise To Import Challenge

ALBERT BAY, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia's Indian population is experiencing its own artistic renaissance.

Much of the revival is centred in this small community, off the northeastern coast of Vancouver Island, where a long house is being built to house a workshop and community handicraft shop.

The main poles in the building are themselves being carved, and the Indians predict the centre will be as much of an attraction as the native art it will contain.

Other Indians have set up their own handicraft shops at Port Simpson, Hazelton, Fort Fraser and Saanichton, featuring Indian designs, basketry, bead and leather work.

Indian spokesmen say they never realized the monetary value of their artistic legacy until the Japanese began flooding Canada with imitation totem poles several years ago.

At first, they asked the government for protection against the imports, but then started to compete with adzes and pocket-knives.

An estimated 200 carvers now are engaged in the production of totem poles, but spokesmen say their output fills only small part of the demand of tourists, interior

YOUTH ADMITS ARSON

LAKE COWICHAN—Pleading guilty to a charge of arson, a juvenile was placed on probation for an indefinite period when he appeared before Magistrate Colin Anderson on Saturday.

Police said the youth started a fire at the IWA Hall in March, while the building was being used as emergency classrooms following a fire at the Cowichan Lake Junior Senior Secondary School.

Damage was estimated at $4,000.

The boy also admitted to starting a fire in the construction shed of the village of Lake Cowichan. Damage was minor.

V.I. BRIEFS

Flash Fire Damage Set At $2,000

DUNCAN—Damage was estimated at $2,000 in a flash fire Saturday on the ground floor of a two-storey apartment in Queens Street.

The suite was occupied by Kenneth Cunningham, who was moving at the time of the fire. Most of his belongings were out of the building when the blaze broke out.

Firemen believe the fire started from a pot of burning grease on the electric stove.

Thomas Charles of Beecher Bay was fined $150 in police court Saturday for impaired driving.

Mrs. Rita Brown pleaded guilty Saturday to breaking probation—one day before her two-year suspended sentence would have been completed.

She was remanded until Monday for sentence.

Mrs. Brown, eight months pregnant, now faces the sentence on a charge of passing $50 and $100 U.S. bills. She was given a two-year suspended sentence here on eight counts of passing the bills May 2, 1962.

She was arrested in Chilliwack by RCMP and returned here to face the breaking probation charge. She had been ordered to stay at Winnipeg and report regularly to a probation officer.

INQUEST WEDNESDAY IN CHEMAINUS HOTEL DEATH

Man Drowns in Bathtub After Fall From Window

CHEMAINUS—A rare chain of events led to the drowning of a 60-year-old man in a rain-filled bathtub outside a hotel for five years.

Sometime during the night Mr. Horton stepped on to the mossy, slanted roof of a 13-foot-high lean-to just beneath his first-floor window.

He slipped and plunged into an old bathtub filled with rain water.

Knocked unconscious by the fall, he drowned in the bathtub.

Harold Knight and Al Gilroy, two plasterers driving to work at Lake Cowichan early Saturday morning, discovered the body.

Coroner Dr. J. S. Goodbrand of Duncan has ordered an inquest for Wednesday night.

Mr. Horton, a native of Chemainus and well known as a baseball player in his younger days, is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Violet Warren, Victoria; Mrs. Sophia Syme, Chemainus, and Mrs. Adeline Syme, Windsor.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday from St. Michael and All Angels Church.

RACIAL CHINESE WALL SCORED BY RUSSIANS

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today accused the Peking regime of building a "Chinese wall between white, yellow and black nations."

The Soviets declared that such "racist" policies would meet the same fate as Hitler's Germany.

"The very appeal to theories and ideas of racial coloration is not new," a statement said, adding:

"It is not necessary to mention the names of those who tried to base their policy on such man-hating principles and how they ended."

TARIFFS

Two-Year Meeting Begins

GENEVA (AP)—The Kennedy round of tariff negotiations was formally inaugurated today with the opening speeches showing wide disagreement on how to proceed.

Ministers and high officials from more than 70 countries, including Canada, assembled in the meeting hall of Geneva's state Parliament to mark the official start. The mammoth tariff-cutting effort is scheduled to continue for as long as two years.

President Johnson, in a message to the conference, said the United States regards the Kennedy round as "an important opening to a better world."

In the message read by his chief trade negotiator, former U.S. State Secretary Christian A. Herter, Johnson pledged that the U.S. will "spare no effort in seeking to help bring this meeting, and the meetings which will follow, to a happy and fruitful conclusion."

In his own speech, Herter called for a speed-up of the intricate negotiations.

But Belgian Foreign Trade Minister Pierre Braeuer, speaking for the six-nation European Common Market, seemed to take a diametrically opposed view.

Braeuer warned against excessive speed leading to "hasty decisions" without the necessary careful preliminary studies.

STRESSES CO-OPERATION

Britain's Eric Wyndham White, executive secretary of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, was chairman of the meeting. He stressed that the participating countries should co-operate to carry forward the work of the late President Kennedy, whose personal support for the U.S. Trade Expansion Act made the negotiations possible and gave them their name.

But Wyndham White pointed out that grave difficulties remain to be overcome, particularly in finding a method for dealing with large disparities between some American and European tariffs.

The goal is 50-per-cent across-the-board tariff cuts.

Hard bargaining on tariff cuts cannot begin before Sept. 10, authoritative sources said. That is the date when 75 of the countries have tentatively agreed to submit their lists of exceptions—goods and products which they refuse to submit to blanket tariff cuts.

Herter's delegation has U.S. congressional authorization to seek across-the-board tariff cuts of 50 per cent.

But the U.S. probably will consider itself fortunate to win tariff cuts of 30 to 40 per cent, informants said.

Herter complained that the long preliminary talks have made little progress in dealing with farm products, considered essential to the negotiations by Washington. Nor, he said, has anyone come to grips with other barriers to international trade.

"It is now our joint responsibility to work out a deal."

But these calamities apparently have not affected the food situation yet.

HOME charges subversion

Commons Indignant At Report

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home levelled new accusations of subversion against Yemen today in the wake of reports that heads of two British soldiers killed in a skirmish with Yemen-supported tribesmen were on public display in Taiz, Yemen's diplomatic capital.

He declared the United States is urgently investigating the report at the request of Britain. The U.S. has a consulate in Yemen. Britain does not recognize the republic of Yemen, which has territorial claims on the British protectorate of Aden.

Indignation mounted in government and parliamentary circles over the report and Douglas-Home made the statement under pressure from members of Parliament of all parties.

He said the information on the beheadings came from the national guard of the South Arabian Federation, a British-sponsored country of 14 sheikdoms.

The prime minister accused Yemen of promoting and supporting violence and subversion in the remote area of the federation where the two British soldiers were killed.

RESPOND TO APPEAL

He declared fresh British troops from Aden had hurried to the area in response to an appeal from the government of the federation.

The troops, he said, were in combat against hostile tribesmen who have launched a series of violent attacks on users of the Aden-Dhala road in the Radfan area, about 60 miles north of Aden. The road links Aden with the crumbling, medieval town which stands on an exposed plain reaching over the desert border into Yemen.

"There is no doubt that the violent subversion in the Radfan area has been encouraged and sustained by the Yemen," he said.

"The opposition encountered by our troops is evidence that support from across the frontier has been on a large scale."

A report from Aden said South Arabian Federation authorities closed the border with Yemen and turned back Aden-bound traffic.

Monorail Proposed For London

LONDON (Reuters)—A plan to beat London's daily rush hour by monorail travel was announced here today.

The monorail cars, capable of whisking 100 commuters at 100 miles an hour from suburban areas into the city and back, would operate only during the morning and evening rush hours when thousands of people go to or leave their offices.

The driverless cars, departing at 40-second intervals from nine main centres around London, would run on concrete and steel hooks and would provide nonstop services.

Motorists who normally drive to work would be urged to leave their cars at specially-built parking lots.

Frederick Snow, head of a firm of consulting engineers said today: "The new monorail could be built in 18 months for between £200,000 and £1,000,000 a mile, compared with £2,500,000 a mile for an elevated urban motorway and £3,000,000 a mile for an underground railway."

STOCKPILING OF URANIUM WINDING UP

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided against continuing its uranium stockpiling beyond the end of June, Acting Trade Minister Hays announced today.

Mr. Hays told the Commons that by the end of June the government will have stockpiled about $25,000,000 worth of uranium under the one-year stockpiling policy started last June 26.

Profits Set Mark In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The jingle of first-quarter profits rang a merry tune of near-record prosperity in the United States last week.

General Motors Corp. checked in with the best three months in the history of any U.S. corporation. Cheering reports came also from U.S. Steel Corp., Texaco and many other major firms for what some surveys indicate will be a one-third rise from 1963's first quarter.

These profits came as the economy moved into the 38th month of economic expansion, setting a U.S. peace-time record. The longest previous span was 37 months in 1945-48.

President Lyndon Johnson, meanwhile, said 1964 profits should hit $31,000,000,000, compared with last year's $27,100,000.

This bespeaks, he said, the kind of economic growth that could lead to further tax cuts "a few years down the road." But this can happen, he said, only if inflationary forces are kept in check.

CUTS CALLED FOR

He asked business leaders to hold down their prices and to cut some if they can. He also said he would ask labor union leaders, when he meets with them this week, to avoid inflationary wage demands.

U.S. Steel Corp., announced price cuts in an important category of products. The avowed purpose was to attempt to curb the tide of foreign imports. The company trimmed prices by 12 to 14 per cent on coarse steel, wire and steel rods for making fencing. These products account for one-third of the 5,600,000 tons of foreign steel sold annually in the United States.

In another development, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution supporting an expansion of U.S. trade with Russia.

The big business news, however, continues to be profits.

PROFITS INCREASED

U.S. Steel, the industry leader, enjoyed a 72-per-cent increase in profits this first quarter from the level of a year ago. The January-March profit was $51,500,000, against $19,900,000 in the first quarter of 1963.

The second-ranked producer, Bethlehem Steel Corp., turned in a similar report, with a 50-per-cent year-to-year to $28,500,000 for the first quarter. Bethlehem's earnings in the first quarter of 1963 were $19,300,000.

The petroleum industry turned in some record-breaking profit performances, despite a mild winter that cut back home fuel orders and trimmed prices in some areas.

New Zealand Keeps Import Restrictions

AUCKLAND (CP)—After 25 years of import licensing, New Zealand is as far as ever from abolishing restrictions on imports.

New Zealand produce is currently selling abroad at exceptionally good prices, yet import allocations for the coming year have actually been cut by about 10 per cent.

Attempts to build up foreign exchange funds have been persistently defeated by the high level of demand for imports. The government feels that it would be fatal to abolish restraints on imports until funds abroad stand at an ample amount to cover all buying.

But efforts to reduce dependence on import licensing and to rely on tariffs alone invariably produce a dangerous plunge in exchange.

HOPES HIGH

Some months ago hopes were high that import restrictions could be relaxed since prices abroad for wool, dairy produce and meat were booming. Since these are the major New Zealand exports, the country was earning at a highly satisfactory rate.

Yet the overseas assets of the banking system have obstinately remained low. The latest total stands at only $255,600,000, which is lower than the $265,800,000 reached a year ago.

The major reason is because the extreme pressure of demand during the last year produced heavier spending on imports despite all government efforts to hold the amount down.

The government set a target of $750,000,000 for private imports during the 1963-64 year and repeatedly asserted that it would not allow this figure to be exceeded. Yet it was forced to give way and increase allocations for cars, television equipment, sugar, gasoline, fertilizers and other items.

BUSINESS VIEWS

Market Correction Starts

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

Despite the continuing flow of record first quarter earnings, the index figures on the major North American stock exchanges over the past several weeks indicate that the long-expected correction in the market is under way.

Among the leading indicators studied by investment experts are the stock exchanges' net debit balances carried by Bell member firms—reflecting the borrowings of individual customers on margin purchases.

This is the so-called "informed money" in stock trading and, while it represents only a fraction of the dollar volume, it reflects the trading of the very astute people who move in and out of the market, from situation to situation, on the basis of long experience and expert judgment.

In New York, where the trend has been most pronounced, the debit balances have declined in three of the past four months leaving analysts with the impression that the market has become more dependent on public buying as the margin buyers have been quietly taking their profits.

While the record first-quarter earnings reports have been very heartening to shareholders—and have undoubtedly contributed to the high price levels of some company stocks—a few corporation heads have taken the trouble to point out that earnings in succeeding quarters cannot necessarily be expected to stand up so well in comparison with the same periods last year.

Particularly after the first half of this year, the earnings figures of many companies will have to be compared with figures from last year's third and fourth quarters when the present strong boom was well under way. Additionally, many companies will be facing higher costs for many basic supplies this year compared with last as well as the likelihood of higher labor costs in almost every field.

Mr. Joseph Guay of this predominantly French-speaking city, said the development will "be a shot in the arm in the living aspect of the French area of the city."

He suggested chefs for the motor hotel could be brought from France to further the "French motif" of the development.

The apartment buildings are to be named "Eiffel Towers."

The project is expected to be completed by the end of 1965.

Hawker Siddeley Canada Ltd., one of the remaining big companies which don't bother to give shareholders quarterly reports has finally had a change of heart.

Chairman Sir Roy Dobson told the annual meeting that the firm is "trying" to arrange for quarterly reports but it is an "involved and difficult task."

Sir Roy also denied the rumor that the company was planning to make a small European-type car in Canada but said that Hawker Siddeley was now in a position to seek growth in both new and traditional fields.

Book value of Hawker Siddeley shares was reported by Sir Roy to be $13.50. The shares trade around $7.

St. Boniface Announces New Complex

ST. BONIFACE, Man. (CP)—

Plans for a $6,000,000 business and residential complex in this Greater Winnipeg city were announced Thursday.

John H. Duncan, Winnipeg architect, said in addition to two six-storey apartment buildings, the 5½-acre site will have a proposed 10-storey motor hotel, a 32-lane bowling alley, a supermarket, a beauty salon, clothing, hardware, footwear and other small stores.

Construction has started on the apartment blocks which will each cost an estimated $1,500,000. They will contain 102 suites each, will have a swimming pool, and will be electrically heated.

The motor hotel will feature a 1,400-seat convention hall and will also have a swimming pool, Mr. Duncan said at a press conference.

Major Joseph Guay of this predominantly French-speaking city, said the development will "be a shot in the arm in the living aspect of the French area of the city."

Airline Control Sought By Hughes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hughes Tool Company is seeking to regain control of Trans-World Airlines.

It has filed a motion with the Civil Aeronautics Board saying it wants to buy $2,800,000 in TWA sinking fund notes now held by Metropolitan and Equitable Life Insurance Companies.

Approval would give Hughes power to end the voting trust by which control over TWA passed from Hughes to the two insurance companies.

However, Mr. Hall said, the level of sales and profits in all operations was considerably higher than last year at the same time.

Twenty-two members of the Vancouver Stock Exchange left Sunday for a three-week tour of Japan, first trip of its kind by any Canadian stock exchange group.

The exchange is more than double the net of the first quarter last year of $2,311,000 or 15 cents a share. Consolidated sales were up 17 per cent but president W. N. Hall remarked that part of this represented some "borrowing" from later in the year as construction material sales had been heavy due to the winter construction incentive and anticipation of the increase in the federal sales tax.

However, Mr. Hall said, the level of sales and profits in all operations was considerably higher than last year at the same time.

The exchange members will be guests of Nomura Securities, Japan's largest investment house, and the Bank of Tokyo. The itinerary includes visits to a number of industrial plants and meeting with government and private financial leaders.

Sherritt Gordon Mines Ltd. showed its best quarterly earnings since 1957 during the first three months this year. Net profit was $1,421,000 or 12.5 cents a share, a share compared with $675,000 or six cents a share in the first quarter of 1963.

Gross income from sale of cobalt, nickel and copper was up by 11 per cent to a new record high.

Civil Rights Debate Hits Methodists

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Controversy over the race question continued on and off the floor today at the 1964 general conference of the Methodist church in the U.S.

In the forefront was a report endorsing civil disobedience within "most carefully circumscribed limits." The report, "Christian social concerns," was scheduled for debate tonight.

Meanwhile, integrationist forces moved behind the scenes to bring back to the floor a plan calling for integration within the church on a voluntary and gradual basis. Integrationists want the plan strengthened.

The "Christian social concerns" report was presented during the weekend by Rev. Harold A. Bosley, New York pastor.

Part of the report said: "Christians have long recognized that after exhausting every reasonable legal means for redress of grievances, the individual is faced with the moral and legal dilemma of whether or not his peculiar circumstances require obedience to God rather than men."

MAKE OWN JUDGMENT

The report also contends that individuals must make such judgment in certain instances in the current struggle for racial justice.

"In rare instances where legal recourse is unavailable for redress of grievances from laws which are clearly unjust or immoral, the individual is justified in obeying God's authority rather than man's. Even then, meticulous care must be taken to prevent proliferation of civil disobedience beyond most carefully circumscribed limits."

During debate Saturday Rev. G. Ross Freeman of Atlanta, Ga., moved for removal of the paragraph referring to obedience to God's authority rather than man's.

'WOULD BE TRAGIC'
"It would be tragic for the news to go from this place that the Methodist church endorses civil disobedience and, therefore, anarchy," he said.

65 MPH Freeway Opens in Burnaby

VANCOUVER (CP) — One of the last Trans-Canada Highway links in the west was forged Friday when the 65-mile-an-hour Burnaby Freeway was opened.

The 11-mile four-lane highway zips traffic from the Port Mann bridge, still under construction, across the Fraser River through Coquitlam and Burnaby to a point just inside Vancouver's boundary.

The freeway and bridge—NAMED executive assistant to linking Vancouver with a 70-mile four-lane system east to Alan Donnelly, above, 38-year-old member for 12 years of the parliamentary staff of The Canadian Press.

Construction of both projects

Construction of the highway, geared to handle 50 cars in each direction per minute, involved building .9 miles of arterial highway, 7.2 miles of local street reconstruction, nine interchanges, six raised highway crossings, four raised railway bridges.

NAMED Friday to conduct a royal commission inquiry into the state of civil liberties in Ontario was Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of the Ontario Supreme Court.

SKIDROAD CLAIMS ANOTHER

Indian Girl Gives Up Living

VANCOUVER (CP) — Myrtle Rose Joe, a tiny, attractive Indian, died Saturday after trudging through a weary life that ended in a skidroad hotel. She was 22.

"It looks as if she decided to give up living," said a member of the fire department inhalator squad that rushed her to hospital, desperately trying to keep her alive with external heart massage.

She was the latest in a string of young Indian women who have died on the skidroad because of excessive drinking or beatings.

Norman Kendall, who said he lived with Myrtle since March 10, said she drank too much and refused to eat because the Children's Aid Society had taken her son from her for neglect.

Myrtle began suffering fainting spells. Her weight dropped.

A doctor warned her to stop drinking.

She continued drinking, usually cheap wine.

Friday, Kendall found Myrtle lying face down on the bed, her heart beating faintly. She lived only a few hours more.

Her case was similar to that of Frances Chow, 32-year-old Indian who died seven hours after her 32nd arrest on a drunk charge last October, and of Irene James, an attractive Indian who died Jan. 8, 1963, after

Cars Found Wrecked After Stripper Raid

TCA Extends Cut Rate To Four Days

Bid Made to Regain Ferry-Hit Business

Trans-Canada Air Lines today announced an extension of its excursion rate fares in a bid to woo weekend travellers between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle.

Starting June 1, the $9 economy return fare from Victoria to Vancouver now good for one day will be extended to cover four days.

The economy excursion rate to Seattle will be $13.

First class excursion fares will be $12 return to Vancouver and $17 to Seattle.

District sales manager S. G. Mooney conceded TCA can't beat B.C. government ferries, but said the airline hopes to win back some of the passengers it has lost since the ferry service started in 1961.

Mr. Mooney also said that C & C Transportation Co. is considering extending its one-day cut rate for limousine service to and from the airports in Vancouver and Victoria.

The current limousine fare totals $5 return. A one-day return rate which C & C would make available for four days totals $16.

PUC APPROVAL

C and C will have to apply to the provincial Public Utilities Commission for permission to make the change.

At present anyone making an overnight flying visit to Vancouver must pay $16 economy and $22 first class.

The overnight return fare to Seattle is $26 economy and $34 first class.

These rates will still apply on a trip lasting more than four days.

ONE-YEAR TEST

Mr. Mooney said the new excursion rates will be tried on an experimental basis for one year.

They will only be continued if there is an "acceptable" increase in traffic.

Mr. Mooney said this is the first time TCA has offered an excursion rate to Seattle.

In the early 1950s he became a partner in the Victoria real estate and insurance firm of Burdon, Fleming and Thomas.

The airline is hoping to attract weekend travellers who normally use ferries, he said.

The return ferry fare between Victoria and Vancouver, including bus, is $8.50.

Mr. Mooney said TCA had been considering the new rates for the past year, but he paid tribute to Victoria Mayor R. B. Wilson for his "intervention and support" in persuading the company to go ahead.

In his dealings with criminals he was quite harsh and a

Popular Models Taken From City

By PETE LOUDON

Two similar cases of car-stripping in a one-month period suggest an up-Island gang is preying on Victoria car owners.

In both cases the cars were taken from Victoria streets and abandoned on side roads off the Island Highway.

In both cases also, the thieves smashed every window in the cars after removing parts of value to them.

And in one case at least, the cars were cleared of all fingerprints, suggesting the thieves were not new to the game and had their prints on file.

"It must be a planned operation," said Al Morgan of Morgan and Tucker service station, whose car was taken March 28 and later found in dense bush off Jinglepot Road, north of Nanaimo. He said his car was locked when it was stolen.

"CUSTOMIZERS"

He said also, it was a 1950 Meteor—a model popular with the set which likes to "customize" cars.

The most recent victim was Victoria nurse Barbara Whitley, 28, of 2814 Inez, who lost her car a week ago while it was parked near her home in the Gorge area.

It was found Sunday in dense woods near Shawnigan Lake. It also had been locked when it was stolen. A 1956 Anglia, which police said contained an engine of a type popular for boats, was systematically wrecked.

Every window was shattered as if by an axe. The seats and upholstery were torn out and the tires removed. Two were taken, the others tossed aside. The transmission and the engine were taken away.

RWARD

Miss Whitley, who said she had no theft insurance, said she will give $50 to any person who provides information leading to the arrest and conviction of the responsible parties.

Both victims feel it would be impossible for one person to have carried away the missing parts. Miss Whitley said the engine number is No. 100E279687.

Anyone being offered such an engine for sale should also notify police if the engine number has been removed.

Gas Prices Up a Cent, Going Higher

Gasoline prices, which rose last Wednesday, will go higher.

A penny increase has taken the price of regular to 40.9 cents a gallon, and premium to 45.9 cents.

The increase follows a two-week boost in Vancouver two weeks ago. Vancouver prices are 39.9 and 44.9 cents.

The move will tend to bring prices back to more profitable levels and reflects a firming of prices in the lower mainland.

Last year, he said, prices dropped sharply during price wars in the Victoria area, and at the new level of 40.9 cents per gallon prices are still well below those of a year ago, when they were around 44.9 cents.

NATURAL

Mr. Le Soeur said it is impossible to predict when or by how much any future increases may occur.

"With present low returns, it is a natural tendency to try to obtain more profitable returns," he said.

"There will be further increases over a long period of time where the competition allows them."

Inspector Brooks Douglass, head of the traffic squad, said today he is astounded at the number of defective cars found in two police road blocks Saturday night. More than the half of the 305 cars that were stopped had to be given warning tickets, he said.

In addition 15 motorists were summoned for offences. Four of them were discovered not to have driving licences.

Principal defect noted in cars by police was failure to have licence plates illuminated.

Car Check Crackdown Coming Up

City traffic police are cracking down on motorists who drive cars that are mechanically defective in any way.

Inspector Brooks Douglass, head of the traffic squad, said today he is astounded at the number of defective cars found in two police road blocks Saturday night. More than the half of the 305 cars that were stopped had to be given warning tickets, he said.

They are now scheduled to return from their Far East training cruise at 11 a.m. Families and relatives will be admitted through dockyard gates shortly after 10 a.m.

Ex-Victorian Writes Second Girls' Novel

By JIM BIGSBY

A former Victoria woman already established as a radio personality will have her second novel released this month.

June Dennis, who began her radio career with a plea for the first Shower of Dimes, arrived in Victoria this weekend to attend a reunion of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League.

Miss Dennis was treasurer of the original group of 30 young volunteers.

TV CAREER

Her latest book, TV Career Girl, is the seventh in the Ryerson Press vocational series for teen-aged girls. A Mike for Marion, Miss Dennis's first novel, told the story of a young girl's first steps in a radio career.

After 18 years of women's programs and commentaries on Toronto and national radio stations, in what she called "a very nice, well-paid rut," Miss Dennis set out last July to tour North America.

When she arrived in and fell in love with San Francisco,

Mother, Baby Injured In Lovers' Lane Crash

A woman and her two-month-old daughter are still in hospital after being injured in a two-car crash in Lovers' Lane in Beacon Hill Park Saturday afternoon.

And a 69-year-old man has also been detained in hospital after being injured when his car went out of control and snapped off a telephone pole Saturday.

They were the most seriously injured among the victims of several spectacular weekend accidents in Greater Victoria.

Mrs. Julia Allan, 31, of 1899 Hollywood Crescent, was with her four young children and Mrs. Florence Locke, 26, of 308 Catherine Street, when was in collision with a vehicle driven by R. W. Gurn, Work Point Barracks.

Mrs. Locke and the Allan children, Winnifred, 9; Deborah, 7, and Bonny, 5, were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital and then released.

BABY BETTER

Mrs. Allan received facial cuts and leg injuries and is in good condition today. Her two-month-old baby, Paul, who was badly bruised, is also reported now in good condition.

Albert Potentiel, 14, of Fairfield Road, was hurt when his car crossed over Esquimalt Road, skidded along the curb for 70 feet, snapped off a power pole and then flipped. He had nose and shoulder injuries and is reported in fairly good shape at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

An accident Sunday morning at Shelburne and Kenmore sent David Murdoch, 20, of 1673 Myrtle, to Royal Jubilee Hospital with head and facial cuts.

ROLLED

He lost control of his car and it rolled doing about $900 damage to the vehicle. Murdoch is in good condition today.

A three-car pile-up late Sunday afternoon at Trans-Canada Highway and Burnside caused more congestion than damage.

Drivers involved in the series of rear-end collisions were R. G. Robinson, 333 Irving; Lawrence Brule, 4107 Gordon Head Road, and Georgina Watkins, 406 Simcoe.

Several persons in the cars were taken to hospital but all were released after a check-up.

Two-Year Tariff Meeting Begins

GENEVA (AP)—The Kennedy round of tariff negotiations was formally inaugurated today with the opening speeches showing wide disagreement on how to proceed.

Ministers and high officials from more than 70 countries, including Canada, assembled in the meeting hall of Geneva's state Parliament to mark the official start. The mammoth tariff-cutting effort is scheduled to continue for as long as two years.

President Johnson, in a message to the conference, said the United States regards the Kennedy round as "an important opening to a better world."

In the message read by his chief negotiator, former U.S. State Secretary Christian A. Herter, Johnson pledged that the U.S. will "spare no effort in seeking to help bring this meeting, and the meetings which will follow, to a happy and fruitful conclusion."

In his own speech, Herter called for a speed-up of the intricate negotiations.

But Belgian Foreign Trade Minister Pierre Brasseur, speaking for the six-nation European Common Market, seemed to take a diametrically opposed view.

Brasseur warned against excessive speed leading to "hasty decisions" without the necessary careful preliminary studies.

STRESSES CO-OPERATION

Britain's Eric Wyndham White, executive secretary of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, was chairman of the meeting. He stressed that the participating countries

Blast Injures Construction Workers

TORONTO (CP)—Two construction workers were reported in fair condition in hospital today after an explosion devastated one of a partially completed row of Scarborough houses.

Firemen believe a cigarette lighter recovered from the debris may have caused the blast.

Bugging' Ruled Out by Top Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court today overturned the conviction of a Norfolk, Va., woman who complained that a spike microphone was stuck in the wall of an apartment adjoining hers to obtain evidence.

The woman, Catherine Clinton, was convicted in a Norfolk city court on charges of placing a female in a house of prostitution and receiving money from a prostitute. Her sentence was five years imprisonment and $500 fine.

The goal is 50-per-cent across-the-board tariff cuts.

Hard bargaining on tariff cuts cannot begin before Sept. 10, authoritative sources said.

That is the date when 75 of the countries have tentatively agreed to submit their lists of exceptions—goods and products which they refuse to submit to blanket tariff cuts.

But Wyndham White pointed out that grave difficulties remain to be overcome, particularly in finding a method for dealing with large disparities between some American and European tariffs.

U.S. Bars Foreign Fishing Vessels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives today passed a bill that would prohibit foreign fishing vessels in the territorial waters of the United States.

It would provide a fine of $10,000 or a year's imprisonment or both for violators, and also authorize seizure and forfeiture of any vessel and its catch found to be violating the law.

Mines Kill 5 USN Men at Guantanamo

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Five U.S. Navy men were killed Saturday night at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, when they entered a mine field and set off explosions within the confines of the U.S. naval base, the navy announced today.

"It is not necessary to mention the names of those who tried to base their policy on such man-hating principles and how they ended."

BEARD STAYS, SALESMAN GOES

A Matter of Principle

PETERBOROUGH (AP)—A 20-year-old salesman with a bright future said today he would abandon his career rather than shave off his beard.

"Under no circumstances," said Ivor Lewis, "will I shave off my beard. It's a matter of principle."

For the last two years Lewis has been working as a trainee-salesman in the local office of a men's clothing firm. Chancery.

He had won a company prize for you would have had a glorious future . . . however, you obviously feel that your independence to retain your beard is of more value in life than a secure and respectable position."

The letter ended:

"I implore you to swallow your senseless pride and let sense prevail."

Explained Lewis:

"I won't change my mind. I'll go at the end of the week."

Mr. Fred Lewis, the young man's mother said:

"We are behind Ivor. We think this action high-handed."

U.K. SOLDIERS BEHEADED BY TRIBESMEN

Youths Hauling Garbage

VANCOUVER (CP)—Enterprising youths with an eye for a quick dollar are being greeted with open arms here.

For a fee ranging from 25 cents up they're toting away in rented trailers household garbage that has piled high since garbage collectors went on strike 13 days ago.

The offer looks like a bargain to many housewives after some 1,600 Civic Employees Union (outside workers) voted Sunday to remain on strike despite proposals from the provincial labor department.

The youths—at least half a dozen were operating in one section of the city—were hauling the garbage to the city dump past picket lines. They were reported turning a tidy profit.

VOTE DOWN PROPOSAL

The union, whose members include sewer and street crews and park employees, voted 90 per cent to reject a proposal by Labor Minister Leslie Peterson to return to work pending mediation of the dispute by Dr. Nell Perry, an economics professor.

Mr. Peterson had proposed that Dr. Perry, whom he appointed to mediate as an industrial inquiry commissioner, continue his investigation while the workers returned to their jobs.

The minister was "disappointed to say the least" that the union rejected the proposal.

"With the strikers remaining out there is all the more reason for urgency," he said.

The union also hardened its stand on conditions, insisting on a 19-cent increase on the basic wage of $2.09 an hour instead of the 12 cents proposed at the start of the walkout.

"In our opinion, certain people on city council and in the provincial government are trying to utilize this situation in order to enact legislation for compulsory arbitration," said Jack Phillips, union secretary.

The city was sticking to its seven-cent-an-hour offer.

The strike has halted garbage collection, sewer and water works maintenance and construction, street cleaning and servicing of city vehicles. Golf courses operated by the park board, the zoo and concession stands in city parks also have been closed.

Downtown, the streets were littered and waste baskets overflowing. Streets were dirty. Only emergency sewer and water repair work was being done.

Some restaurants were paying private garbage collectors to haul away refuse. In residential districts, many persons were either hauling the garbage to the dump themselves or burning and burying it.

Reports received in Vienna said 3,000 students participated in the rioting in Kinsky Park, where they had gathered for a traditional May Day reading of poetry.

The reports, relayed by diplomatic sources, said the violence bordered on open revolt.

COMMUNIST RIOTERS

Bulgarians Barred From Church Rites

VIENNA (AP)—The Soviet bloc's second riot in three days broke out in Sofia Sunday as Communist youths blocked the path of Bulgarian Orthodox churchgoers en route to Easter mass.

Youth group demonstrations during Prague's May Day celebration Friday turned into battles with Czechoslovak police and resulted in 31 announced arrests.

The official Czech news agency, CTK, confirmed the disturbances in Prague but Bulgarian government agencies remained silent about the clashes of the Orthodox Easter celebration.

An announcement said the youths were involved in clashes both with police and Communist youths.

"With the strikers remaining out there is all the more reason for urgency," he said.

There is no doubt that the violent subversion in the Radfan area has been encouraged and sustained by the Yemenis," he said.

The opposition encountered by our troops is evidence that support from across the frontier has been on a large scale."

CUBA MISSILE SHIFT DENIED

WASHINGTON (AP)—

The U.S. defence department said today it has "no information indicating any change in the characteristics of the Soviet ground-to-air missiles installed in Cuba," despite published reports.

(See story page 10.)

Entrances to Aleksander Nevsky Cathedral in Sofia were blocked by youths shouting atheist slogans. Police closed the cathedral doors to prevent incidents and the fighting ensued.

Patriarch Cyril, spiritual leader of the Bulgarian Orthodox Church, was to have celebrated the mass, climax of the Orthodox Easter celebration.

An announcement said the patriarch was ill and Bishop Nikolai, rector of the academy of theology, took his place.

There is no doubt that the violent subversion in the Radfan area has been encouraged and sustained by the Yemenis," he said.

The opposition encountered by our troops is evidence that support from across the frontier has been on a large scale."

Israel Raps West German Dallying

JERUSALEM (Reuters)—Foreign Minister Mrs. Golda Meir today told the Israeli parliament President Nasser of Egypt threats Israel with rockets produced with the aid of West German scientists.

Replying to opposition motions to debate the issue of the latest delays in the enactment of legislation in West Germany designed to curb the activities of West German scientists in the Egyptian war industry, Mrs. Meir urged the West German government to undertake without delay the measures necessary to stop their work.

Mrs. Meir said:

"We take the view that the German government cannot remain indifferent to the fact that 19 years after the fall of the Hitlerite regime, which caused the destruction of millions of Jews, members of the same people are again involved in actions aimed at helping Nasser to attack the state of Israel in which the survivors of the holocaust and the destruction have gathered."

BONN (Reuters)—The government has dismissed a British press report claiming West German scientists helped Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser achieve a "breakthrough" in his alleged plan to make Egypt a minor nuclear power.

Monorail Proposed For London

LONDON (Reuters)—A plan to beat London's daily rush hour by monorail travel was announced here today.

The monorail cars, capable of whisking 100 commuters at 100 miles an hour from suburban areas into the city and back, would operate only during the morning and evening rush hours when thousands of people go to or leave their offices.

The driverless cars, departing at 40-second intervals from nine main centres around London, would run on concrete and steel hooks and would provide nonstop services.

Motorists who normally drive to work would be urged to leave their cars at specially-built parking lots.

Frederick Snow, head of a firm of consulting engineers said today: "The new monorail could be built in 18 months for an elevated urban motorway and £2,000,000 a mile for an underground railway."
